Air Force Man Loses Life in Fire

'Sea Monster' Invades South City

MEDICINE HAT, Alta May 10—(CP)—A "sea monster" reported sighted in the waters of the South Saskatchewan River near the railroad bridge here last Tuesday, was said to have been seen again Friday.

EARLY IN THE morning on her way to work, Miss Elizabeth MacDonald, crossing the "Finlay bridge" from her riverside home, reported seeing a large "object" resembling a log, apparently moving upstream. On closer examination, Miss MacDonald said the "object" appeared to move.

In a hurry to get to work, the young lady was unable to stop for a closer examination. On Tuesday, about 2 p.m. Mrs. R. Ireland, an English war bride, took her two prize French poodles for a swim in the river opposite the Armories Park, when a warning shout from the park caretaker that a monster of some description was swimming towards the dogs, caused her to call the pets to shore.

LOOKING OVER the waters edge towards the centre of the murky stream, she said she noticed a large object on the surface,

Ruhr Asks Help In Food Crisis

BERLIN, May 10.—(Reuters)—Lord Pakenham, British minister in charge of German affairs, who arrived by air today, held a series of conferences with British and United States military government officials following his visit to the British zone yesterday, when mass strikes and hunger marches took place in Hamburg and Hanover.

Pakenham, who declined to comment on his meetings there with German leaders, was expected to stay in Berlin until tomorrow.

Urgent appeals for help in the Ruhr's food crisis were understood to have been put before Pakenham yesterday when he met Dr. Rudolph Amelunxen, premier of North Rhine-Westphalia, and other leaders.

ESSEN, May 10. — (AP) — The possibility of a new strike or slowdown by Ruhr coal miners in protest against food shortages in the British occupation zone of Germany arose today as mine union leaders gathered for a conference at nearby Bochum.

To Stand Trial On Murder Count

GRANDE PRAIRIE, Alta., May 10.—(CP)—Peter Standing Ribbon, charged with the murder of his 20-year-old wife at the Sturgeon Lake Indian reserve sometime last month, was committed for trial at the next sitting of the supreme court to be held here, at his preliminary hearing.

Mails Ban Amber

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(AP)—The post office department has ruled that the novel "Forever Amber" henceforth will not be accepted for shipment through the mails, Roy Frank, assistant solicitor, said last night. Frank said decision to ban Kathleen Winsor's novel on the ground that it is obscene was reached after the chief inspector, James J. Doran, asked for a ruling.

Famous Uranium Ore Deposit Intensively Mined by Russians

By JAMES M. LONG

PRAGUE, May 10 (CP)—The best available information leaking through the sealed frontier between northern Bohemia and the Soviet-occupied zone of German Saxony indicates that the Russians are intensively mining a northern spur of the famous Joachimstal uranium ore deposit.

Residents of the Karlsbad Spa district near Joachimstal say the extent of mining activity reported would suggest that the newly-found deposits just north of the border might be even larger than the original mines. It was there Professor Pierre and Madame Marie Curie got their first uranium ore for radium. Before the war the deposit was the largest known.

Obviously, such reports cannot be substantiated on the Czech side of the frontier. But they dovetail closely with news reports which have come previously from Germany.

Stories of the Russian mining acitivity—and these are widely known in the border towns through the Erz mountain section—come from persons who have visited or had business on permit north of the frontier.

Grant Extra Sugar For Canning Needs

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—Ten extra ration coupons will again be made valid to consumers this year for canning purposes, the prices board announced today. Officials said the 10 pounds of sugar will be divided by declaring valid five coupons at different dates during the canning season. On May 15, coupons Y1 to Y5, inclusive, will become valid, and July 17, Y6 to Y10. Thus, consumers will have a total of seven sugar coupons in May, as S49 and S50 became due May 1.

British Princesses Steer Battleship

LONDON, May 10 (AP)—Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose each steered the battleship Vanguard for several minutes today, Exchange Telegraph reported in a dispatch from the British warship which is bringing the Royal Family home from a tour of South Africa. The Vanguard is scheduled to arrive at Portsmouth tomorrow.

LONDON LETTER

Will Long Remember Genius of Henry Ford

By Sir Shuldham Redfern

LONDON, May 10—The death of Mr. Henry Ford is an immeasurable loss to the world for he was not only a great American; he was a world figure of gigantic proportions. It would be a mere cliche to say that he left an indelible mark on the surface of industry; he entirely revolutionized industrial methods in a way that will influence production for generations. If genius has been defined as the capacity for distinguishing between the extraordinary and the impossible, then within the sphere of his tremendous achievement, Mr. Ford was unquestionably a genius.

HE ONCE WROTE a book called "My Philosophy of Industry." The following is an extract from it:

"There are two ways of making money — one at the expense of others, the other by service to others. The first method does not 'make' money, does not create anything; it only 'gets' money — and does not always succeed in that. In the last analysis the so-called gainer loses. The second way pays twice—to maker and user, to seller and buyer. It receives by creating, and receives only a just share, because no one is entitled to all. Nature and humanity supply too

Firemen, Friends Unaware Victim Was in Building

LAC Graham Archibald (Peter) Smith, 7940 84 avenue, a veteran member of the Royal Canadian Air Force and now stationed at North West Air Command lost his life when fire partially destroyed the two-room house in which he and his wife lived. The fire alarm was turned in at 5:55 p.m. Mrs. Smith was not at home. She had gone earlier, to the University Hospital to await the imminent "blessed event" for which she and her husband had been waiting with great anticipation. The event took place at 12.45 a.m. Saturday when a baby girl was born.

NEIGHBORS NOTICED smoke pouring from the little house and promptly notified the fire department. The call was answered at 5.55 p.m. by equipment from No. 6 hall under the direction of District Fire Chief Harvey and it was not until the fire was well under way that it was known the victim was in the building.

Neighbors said they had not seen Smith during the day, and had no reason to believe that he was still in the house.

THE ALARM was phoned in by Mrs. Marion Vaughan, 7948 84 avenue, and her husband told of having seen Smith the previous evening.

The body was not burned, police report and Coroner Dr. E. A. Braithwaite ordered it moved to Hainstock and Son's funeral home. No inquest will be held.

In the meantime in the maternity ward of the University hospital the airman's wife was awaiting the arrival of a baby. A girl was born to her at 12.45 a.m. Saturday.

When found, Smith was in the corner of the small bedroom. No outcry had been heard while the fire was burning, and it is thought he had been overcome by smoke from the mattress, the only object in the room completely distroyed by fire.

Drive For Holy Land Freedom

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., May 10—(AP)—Russia spearheaded a drive in the United Nations today aimed at giving Palestine full independence possibly within six months.

CONTINUING debate on the Holy Land issue, the 55-member political committee was faced with a Soviet demand that a proposed United Nations inquiry commission submit a plan for "establishing without delay the independent state of Palestine."

Should the Russian proposal be included in the inquiry group's terms of reference, the commission would specifically be instructed to submit a plan to the regular session of the assembly for action in September.

If the assembly then approved the plan Palestine would be declared an independent state, provided Great Britain, which holds the Holy Land under a League of

Taiyuan Battle Rises In Fury

NANKING, May 10.—(AP)—The battle for Taiyuan, capital of the north China province of Shansi, rose in fury today with the government unleashing 100 planes in a desperate bid to turn back the Communists.

By government acknowledgment, the Communists pressed ever nearer Taiyuan, captured the railway of Fenyang, 60 miles to the southwest, and cut the road between the two cities at several points.

Besides the rolling drive from the south, strong Communist forces last were reported about 35 miles north of Taiyuan, where they outnumbered the defenders two to one.

Taiyuan itself was pictured in Chinese press accounts as packed with more than 100,000 refugees who fled before advancing Communist forces.

Eastward in Honan province, government defenders of the Peiping-Hankow railway City of Anyang sent out a call for help against besieging Communists.

Russia Accepts Korea Proposals

LONDON, May 10.—(AP)—Moscow radio said today Russia has accepted certain American proposals for consulting Korean representatives concerning the formation of a provisional government for Korea.

The broadcast said the acceptance was contained in a letter from Foreign Minister Molotov to State Secretary Marshall, who had hinted earlier that unless Russia specifically agreed to consult all Korean political elements on the question the United States might boycott a scheduled May 20 meeting of the joint United States-Soviet commission in Seoul.

It was the fourth in a series of letters between the two diplomats concerning the future of Korea, which now is occupied by Russian forces in the north and American forces in the south. Previous talks concerning Korean independence broke down a year ago over the question of what Korean groups and parties were to be consulted.

Nfld. Delegation Said Disappointed

London, May 10 (CP)—The Daily Graphic said today the seven-man delegation which visited London to discuss Newfoundland's future status left "bitterly disappointed" and their report might influence the Newfoundland national convention to reverse its former decision and sound out the possibilities of joining the United States.

The paper quoted Maj. P. J. Cassin, former Newfoundland finance minister, as saying "all we can say until we've reported to the convention is that we think (Dominions secretary) Adison is playing a clever game with our country and we are not going to let him get away with it."

LONDON, May 10.—(AP)—Part of the British Mediterranean fleet will visit Sevastopol, Russian Crimean port on the Black Sea, in the course of a July cruise in middle-eastern waters, the admiralty announced yesterday.

U.S. House Approves Aid Plan

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—The United States administration's $400,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid measure was sealed with overwhelming congressional approval last night.

ONLY ROUTINE steps remained to start a stream of American men, money and material into the two Mediterranean countries to ward off Communist encroachment.

Over-riding attempt after attempt to modify its terms, the House of Representatives early last night joined the Senate in endorsing this new peacetime foreign policy, committing American resources to stabilize internal affairs of countries outside the western hemisphere.

The House action of final passage came on a roll call vote of 287 to 107. The measure passed the Senate April 22 by a vote of 67 to 22.

THE BILL GOES back to the Senate now. Presumably a joint House-Senate conference committee will be formed to work out minor differences. The measure may reach Truman's desk early next week.

Tells of Conditions On Arabian Island

While the tides of world power politics roll and ebb around the vital question of oil, 1,000 Britishers, Americans and Canadians, plus a few natives, live and work side by side in perfect harmony at a huge refinery site on Bahrein Island in the far-off Persian Gulf.

Home on a brief vacation after more than two years as an engineer-mechanic for Bahrein Petroleum Co., Don Turner of 11243 126 street, described life on the sun-baked island close to the shores of Arabia.

FORMERLY MASTER mechanic with the Northern Alberta Railways here, Mr. Turner worked on the Canol oil refinery at Whitehorse during the last war.

He was in a group of 50 Americans and Canadians employed at Whitehorse who signed contracts to go to Arabia.

His eldest son, Donald, went with him and is working for the oil company on the Persian Gulf Island.

Tests Encouraging Leduc No. 3 Well

With officials unanimous in their confidence regarding productive possibilities of the Imperial Oil Co.'s No. 2 well at Leduc, continued encouragement is resulting from tests of the company's No. 3 well, which at 5,190 feet is still in the porous zone and at press time Saturday another drill stem test was being made on this well which yielded evidences of oil and gas a few days ago.

Volume of gas is being maintained at the rate of 1,500,000 cubic feet every 24 hours at the No. 2 well which is now at 5,143 feet. Latest tests there shows the drill is still in oil productive porous rock. Tests show quality of the oil is remaining constant at a specific gravity of 39. The company will continue to drill No. 2 to the greatest depth of its porous formation.

Millions of Britons To Greet Rulers

PORTSMOUTH, England, May 10.—(Reuters)—Millions of Britons here and in London are preparing this week-end to welcome home their King and Queen and the two princesses. Some 500,000 people are expected to throng Portsmouth's beaches when the Vanguard glides into the harbor to the thunder of a royal salute about 6 p.m. (10 a.m. MDT) tomorrow. The royal party will spend tomorrow night aboard the Vanguard and after a civic reception here Monday morning, will travel by train to London, where Prime Minister Attlee will greet them at Waterloo Station.

Control Blaze

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, May 10. — (CP) — Weary firemen early today reported that they had brought under control a fire which broke out yesterday and destroyed most of two city blocks. The post office and at least three business establishments were razed before firemen got control of the flames. Firemen said they believed the outbreak began in a bakery.

Arrest Plotters

RIO DE JANERIO, May 10.—(AP)—The independent newspaper Diario de Noticias said today military authorities had arrested about 30 army sergeants and charged them with "organizing a military plot" to restore Former President Getulio Vargas to power. The newspaper quoted "authoritative circles" confirming the existence of a plot.

Great Britain Sends Greece Arms

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—Britain has sent Greece 436,000 rounds of American-made lend-lease machine gun ammunition the state department disclosed yesterday in a report on surplus arms transaction in the last four months. Greece also was supplied by Britain with 35 Browning machine guns, 14 aircraft engines and lesser arms items.

1st World Bank Loan Is Made to France

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—The World Bank announced yesterday its first loan, one of $250,000,000 to France which had applied for $500,000,000.

THE LOAN MONEY is to be spent on material and equipment to reconstruct and modernize France's war-torn industry.

It is to run for 30 years and bear 3¼-per cent interest, with another one per cent going to the bank as a commission, making the total interest cost to France 4¼ per cent.

The interest charge presumably set a pattern for other loans to be made by the bank.

Eight other countries are seeking $2,055,000,000 in loans.

THE LOAN to France takes more than one-third of the $725,000,000 available to the bank at present.

But the bank expects to raise

Reports Western Shoreline of Alaska Near Russia Is "Armed Fortress"

NEW YORK, May 10—(AP)—Alaska's western shoreline — at one point less than 100 miles from Russian territory —has been tranformed by the United States into an "armed fortress," Dr. Mark A. Dawber, executive secretary of the Home Mission Council of North America, said today.

"All along the Alaskan coastline from Nome to Point Barrow there is evidence of military preparation," Dawber told the executive committee of the council, a co-operative agency representing 23 Protestant denominations in Home Mission work.

"Huge concrete structures have been erected in rocky wasteland for air bases and military service," said the churchman, who has just returned from a three-week air tour of the area.

Epidemic Kills Fifteen Babies

MONTREAL May 10—(CP)—Fifteen foundlings, stricken by "some sort of influenza," died at a Montreal district institution during a recent three-week period, Dr. Arthtur Chabot, district medical officer for the provincial government disclosed Friday.

Thirty-two infants at the Gray Nunnery in suburban Notre Dame de Liesse were stricken Dr. Chabot said. The last deaths occurred a little more than a week ago.

With the exception of one 18-month-old baby, all the children who died were one-year-old or younger, Dr. Chabot said.

"It came all of a sudden and we have no real explanation for it" the health department official said of the epidemic. "We established as far as we could following various tests that it must be some form of influenza."

Winston Churchill Honored By France

By ROSS MUNRO

PARIS, MAY 10 (CP)—In a colorful ceremony in the "Cour d'Honneur" of the historic Hotel des Invalides, Winston Churchill today was decorated with France's highest military decoration, the Medaille Militaire, as a token of France's gratitude and admiration for his wartime leadership and unwavering support of the republic.

It was the kind of show Churchill loves and he moved slowly through it, relishing every minute.

Several thousand cheering, admiring Frenchmen jammed the cloisters around the courtyard where two squadrons of white-turbanned Spahi cavalrymen with flowing desert cloaks and flashing sabres were drawn up along with a battalion of French infantry and two companies of "Chasseurs," the equivalent of Canadian rifle regiments.

Freight Hearing Dates Announced

OTTAWA, May 10.—(CP)—The Board of Transport Commissioners announced today the dates it will sit in its first regional hearings of the railways' application for a 30-per-cent freight-rate increase. The board will sit in Charlottetown, May 23; Halifax, May 26, 27 and 28, and Saint John, N.B., May 30 and 31. Arrangements for regional hearings in the western provinces will be decided later a spokesman said.

Veterans To Get Full Allowances

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—Pensioned veterans taking training or continuing their education under Canada's rehabilitation program will in future receive full training allowances and full pension under an order-in-council tabled in the Commons Friday by Veteran Minister Mackenzie.

In the past pensioned veterans taking training or continuing education had recived their full pension but training allowance was reduced by a proportion of the pension.

The minister said that "in the case of veterans with dependents, where dependents' allowance under the pension act is less than the similar allowance under training or educational provisions, the dependents' allowance will be augmented to the full level of the allowance under the Veterans Rehabilitation Act.

"Shoot To Kill" Request Refused

SHANGHAI, May 10.—(AP)—Rice shop owners demanded permission today "to shoot to kill" if mobs storm their stores, but Mayor K. C. Wu refused.

Wu told the Shanghai Rice Dealers' Guild the police would provide greater protection if the Guild reopened shops, now closed and barricaded against attack by rice-hungry Chinese.

Rice rioting continued on a smaller scale. The demonstrations are aimed mainly at frozen wages and high living costs.

Employes of the Chinese government radio administration struck for higher wages, halting communications except for government and press messages.

many necessary partners for that. True riches make wealthier the country as a whole."

JUST AS THE Roman occupation of Britain is brought to mind nowadays not by the fact that it meant some four hundred years of competent government and an entirely new departure in administrative technique, but by the existence of a few fragments of Roman mosaic and domestic remains in such places as Bath, so it is possible that Mr. Henry Ford will be remembered in the future less by the introduction of a system of manufacture which in many ways changed the economic tempo of the world than by the remarkable product of that upheaval. I refer in particular to the Model T Ford.

AN AMERICAN once said to me "You know, you British say that the sun never sets on the Union Jack but wouldn't it be just as true to say that there is no corner of the world where you won't find a bit of a Ford car? I had to admit that he was absolutely right and in truth I have found bits of the Model T in the most unexpected places.

In the early twenties I was sent as Resident to a Sultan who lived on the eastern ridge of the Sahara and almost in the exact centre of the African continent. To get there from the end of the railway it was a trek of six weeks on a camel, for the road through scrub and waterless desert, with eight day stretches between wells, was impassable by any other means. Nevertheless, when I reached my destination, I found that the Sultan had had the engine of a Model T rigged up to drive a pump. It had been brought on the back of a camel and it worked unfalteringly.

A FEW YEARS later when I was moved to a less outlandish place I was motoring through thick scrub in a Model T when a rock hit the bottom of the engine and removed a large jagged piece of crankcase. As all the oil ran out there seemed to be nothing to do but walk to the nearest village, obtain camels from the local sheik and face a three days' journey back to headquarters.

But my Sudanese driver Ibrahim and the Model T were between them undefeated. Ibrahim fixed the piece of broken crankcase back in place, unwound his turban from his head and bound it round the engine to hold the whole contraption together. From some obscure cranny of the car he produced a small tin of oil and in 20 minutes we were on our way. We reached home with only one misadventure and that was when we drove into an irrigated canal in the dark. Even that did not stop the engine although the front half of it was submerged. I remember looking down and noticing that the lights were still on under water! Such an experience was a mere bagatelle for a Model T Ford.

NOW A QUARTER of a century later in England, motoring is a rare pastime. I doubt if I have been in a car half a dozen times in the last two years. But after many vain efforts, I have at last persuaded a dealer to put my name down for a car which he hopes will be delivered in about three years time. It is a small fourteen horse-power four cylinder car and will cost the equivalent of $2,800. The dealer says it will be very modern with the gear shift lever under the steering wheel—like a pre-war Canadian taxi. I thought, but I refrained from saying so because I remember when the shift lever first appeared under the steering wheel in Canada about ten years ago, it was pointed out to me by a dealer as a great advance, and he was rather annoyed when I told him that my father had a six horse-power single-cylinder car in 1909, and it also had its shift lever under the steering wheel.

THE TRUTH of the matter is that these inventions go round in circles. No doubt in twenty years time there will be a wonderful new kind of telephone. Instead of fumbling with these horrible dials, all you have to do will be to lift the receiver and say the number you want into the instrument, a human voice will reply and you will be connected. And then somebody will remember that that is just what we all did years ago.

And so when this new-fangled shift lever is out of fashion, some brilliant motor car designer will invent a gear shift system worked by pedals and with two gears instead of three. Some of us with long grey beards will of course remember that that is what Mr. Henry Ford put into his Model T.

But we will keep that to ourselves—out of politeness more lending capital by selling its securities to American investors this summer or fall.

France, which has borrowed $1,150,000,000 from the U. S. government-owned export - import bank since the war's end, had been seeking a loan from the World Bank for nine months.

THE $250,000,000 credit actually goes to Credit National, a semi-governmental French corporation, but it is guaranteed by the Republic of France.

Part of the money will go into modernizing France's steel industry, providing a modern strip mill, among other things. France also plans improvements to its transportation system by purchase of locomotives and freight cars, cargo ships and cargo barges, and commercial airplanes.

which had apparently been swimming downstream, and had then turned towards the dogs. She described the sea creature as being dull gray in color and rather thin, and added that she could distinctly see the mouth which opened and closed continuously. The mouth was approximately a foot wide, she said.

The "monster" turned and continued downstream when the animals reached the shore.

Confirmation of Mrs. Ireland's story was made by two members of the SAR reserve, Lieut. L. Russell and CQMS. F. Lewis, who were called from the armories building by the park caretaker. They thought at first that it was merely a log, but to make certain, proceeded to Police Point, about two miles downstream, and with a powerful telescope, obtained a closer view.

CERTAIN THAT the object was not a log, the two men were unable to obtain a detailed description but said they were certain they could make out the large mouth opening and closing.

night, time of death had not been determined.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Smith 12238 87 street, and other members of his family were notified soon after the fire was extinguished.

Medical attention was found necessary for his mother who collapsed from shock when the news was broken to her.

The Smith family had lived in the Bonnie Doon district for a number of years before moving to the present address a short time ago.

The airman enlisted with the RCAF in Feburary 1941 as an airplane mechanic, and took his technical training at St. Thomas before proceeding overseas on Dec. 26, 1943.

HE WAS STATIONED in England until the European front opened up, when he was sent across the channel to No. 62 base of operational command.

He was repatriated in Sept. 1945 and was released from the airforce in October the same year. He re-enlisted in the permanent air force at Nov. 4, 1946 and at the time of his death was serving as an airplane mechanic with No. 6 composite flight, RCAF Station, Edmonton.

D. J. TIEDEMANN, across the street was among the neighbors noting the fire, and made an attempt to enter the house. He found the smoke too dense to make such a plan feasible. Other neighbors also made the attempt, but none realized that the unfortunate young man was inside.

In many European countries, slate is still used as a roofing material for buildings.

here at home is the cold," Mr. Turner, said Saturday.

"LAST SUMMER WE had temperatures of 124 to 126 in the shade for days at a time. For nine months there was not a drop of rain," he added.

Despite the heat, workers in the oil colony are comfortable, thanks to an ideal, modern setup designed and constructed by the oil company.

Houses are fully modern and air conditioned. There is a fine hospital and school. The recreation facilities rival the best on this continent and include football, cricket and baseball fields and a floodlighted golf course. The golf course has a fully modern club building. There are also swimming pools and an open air moving picture theatre.

THE ISLAND IS 26 miles long and 10 miles wide and oil from the great producing fields of Arabia is refined at the island refinery. There are also some producing wells on the island itself.

Mr. Turner left Bahrein Island for home on March 21, making the long journey by launch, plane, train and steamship. He made brief stopovers in Greece, Italy and the island of Sicily.

In about two months he plans to return to Bahrein under contract for another two years. He will take his wife with him this time and also his second son, 18 year-old Robert, who will complete his schooling in India.

Mr. Turner plans to return to Canada for good on completion of his second two-year contract.

C. E. Garnett Asks Greek Assistance

Appeal for assistance toward the Northern Alberta objective of $40,000 in the current Relief to Greece campaign was voiced Friday by Charles E. Garnett, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped that Canada will be able to raise $1,500,000 for aid to that war torn country.

"I consider the appeal for aid to Greece one which will touch the hearts of everybody and should find a ready response from our generous Edmontonians," said Mr. Garnett. To emphasize his endorsation of the campaign, Mr. Garnett tendered a personal cheque as a contribution to the fund.

Through the money raised in Canada, emergency requirements such as medical supplies, food and clothing can be sent to relieve the desperate conditions in Greece. These goods will be distributed to those in need by the Red Cross.

Contributions to the campaign will be accepted throughout northern Alberta at branch offices of any chartered bank. Arrangements have also been made through A. K. Olive, superintendent of provincial government treasury branches to set up the same service at treasury branches.

Campaign donations may be deducted from 1947 earnings when calculating this year's income tax, committee members here have emphasized.

Jewish Memorial

LONDON, May 10. — (AP) — Jewish leaders announced yesterday plans to establish a forest in upper Galilee as a memorial for the 6,000,000 Jewish victims of Hitler's extermination policy. In the centre of the forest an edifice will be erected where a memorial light will burn and, once a year, the Jewish prayers for the dead will be recited.

Found Dead

ATHENS, May 10.—(AP)—The EAM (National Liberal Front) central committee announced today it had received a message saying Gen. Euripides Bakirdzis had been found dead at his place of exile yesterday with a bullet in his heart. Bakirdzis, an officer of the EAM's armed force (ELAS), was in exile on the island of Furni.

Red Deer Organizes Greek Relief Drive

Red Deer has organized to play its part in the urgent Canadian Relief to Greece campaign by naming a committee to direct the drive in that community, it was announced on Saturday.

B. W. Bennett, of the T. Eaton Co. Western Limited store in Red Deer, was elected chairman, and T. Foster of the Royal Bank of Canada will serve as treasurer. Assisting these men will be a committee including F. T. Jenner, W. J. Botterill, J. Lawrence and A. B. Mitchell, all business men in Red Deer.

The Red Deer Advocate, weekly newspaper in that area, will co-operate with these committees in promoting the drive.

Seek Cash To Probe U.S. Govt. Workers

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—President Truman asked Congress Friday for $24,900,000 to investigate the loyalty of government workers. The Civil Service Commission would get $16,160,000 of the money, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation $8,740,000. The fund would carry the inquiry only until June 30, the end of the current fiscal year.

Import Regulations On Potatoes Lifted

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—A Commons' return, tabled for John Blackmore (SC-Lethbridge), said yesterday import regulations for new potatoes from the United States were lifted between April 14 and April 23. The return said there were insufficient potatoes in storage in Western Canada at that time to meet western requirements.

First Survey Reveals:

1947 Wheat Acreage Down From Last Year

OTTAWA, May 10 —(CP)— The Dominion bureau of statistics reported Friday that Canadian farmers have indicated they intend to seed 25,097,800 acres of wheat this year, a decline of 802,300 from the 25,900,100 acres seeded in the 1946 season.

THE SPRING WHEAT acreage, sown principally on the prairie provinces, will total 24,486,800 against 25,354,000 last year, and the fall wheat acreage, mainly an Ontario crop, will come to 611,000 compared with 546,100.

Barley acreage will jump from 6,730,500 to 7,808,400, while oats will decline to 12,642,500 from 13,162,700.

Total rye acreage will be 600,300 compared with 534,000. Spring rye will total 208,100 against 183,000 and fall rye 392,200 against 351,000.

Flaxseed acreage was placed at 1,680,600 against 1,008,500, summerfallow at 18,673,000 against 18,906,000 and potatoes at 504,100 against 520,600.

THE BUREAU LISTED the intended acreages with 1946 figures in brackets:

Three provinces—Spring wheat, 24,311,000 (25,178,000); oats, 9,060,000 (9,610,000); barley, 7,340,000 (6,269,000); spring rye, 199,400 (174,000); flaxseed, 1,653,000 (990,000; summerfallow, 18,673,000 (18,906,000).

Alberta—Spring wheat, 7,425,000 (7,500,000); oats, 2,809,000 (2,957,000); barley, 2,282,000 (1,902,000); spring rye, 45,800 (42,000); flaxseed, 269,000 (90,000); summerfallow, 5,394,000 (5,619,000).

The bureau emphasized that the intended acreages, all as of April 30, were merely indicative of farmers' plans at that date and that acreages actually seeded may vary, depending upon conditions later affecting seeding.

THE DETAILED crop report for Alberta—seeding appears to be getting under way later than in any year since 1940. By April 30, only eight per cent of the spring wheat crop had been seeded. It is anticipated that with good weather seeding will be general during the second week in May.

Fall wheat, which represents a relatively small proportion of Alberta's total wheat average, wintered poorly in some districts and it is thought that a large percentage may have to be reseeded to spring wheat.

In some sections of the Peace River district, sub-soil moisture is reportedly below normal but the deficiency is not thought serious as yet. Moisture conditions elsewhere in the province are reported to be satisfactory.

Revenue Minister Defends Budget

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—Revenue Miister McCann told members of the Commons Friday that if they voted for opposition motions of non-confidence in the government they would deny the people the income tax reductions announced in the budget.

Rising to take part in the budget debate, now in its fourth day, Dr. McCann referred to CCF and Progressive Conservative motions before the House and said that if they passed it would mean the government would be defeated and the budget provisions, scheduled to become effective July 1, would not be implemented.

The minister also denied charges made earlier by Hon. Earl Rowe (PC—Dufferin-Simcoe) of "inefficiency and reckless extravagance" in governmental expenditures and placed on record a statemen in which he reported that the number of government employes had been reduced from a wartime peak of 142,000 to 121,000. In 1939, the total was 52,000.

Opening the budget debate, Dr. McCann termed the budget a "popular budget" and said the government had shown "courage and statesmanship" in its financial policy. General reaction to the budget, at least outside the House, had been favorable.

Butter Position Improves Steadily

OTTAWA, May 10—(CP)—Canada's butter position is improving steadily, with more stocks on hand and a higher production rate. Two bureau of statistics reports yesterday showed Canada has almost twice as much of this still-rationed item as last year, and that production last month was five per cent ahead of the same month last year. Total stocks at May 1 stood at 11,207,117 pounds compared with 6,790,804 the same date in 1946, while April production advanced to 20,737,000 pounds from 19,705,000 in April last year.

Plucky Cashier Saves Payroll

TORONTO, May 10—(CP)—Two armed bandits entered the manufacturing plant of A. Stein and Company on downtown Peter street late yesterday, fired three shots to intimidate 60 women employes and fled without any loot after a plucky cashier dropped to the floor of a pay office with the firm's payroll.

The cashier, Miss Charlotte Godley, ducked with the payroll behind the locked half-door to her desk as she was confronted by the bandits. They fired two shots over her head and another one into the floor to keep the rest of the employes quiet.

The men were standing in a long corridor down which the employes of the firm manufacturing men's garters and suspenders proceed to receive their pay at the cashier's gate. The 60 or so employes were packed in the corridor as the hold-up men fired their warning shots but were unable to reach the payroll.

Docker's Wallet On Long Journey

VANCOUVER, May 10 (CP)—A longshoreman's wallet, lost in a load of grain last January, was returned to its owner intact Friday after a four-month voyage to England and back. Hugh Estridge of Vancouver, lost the wallet containing $10 a birth certificate and other personal papers while loading a grain vessel bound for England. Friday, a small parcel arrived from Manchester in the English Midlands—it was the missing wallet. Safely tucked inside was the $10, certificate and papers.

Italian Treaty Wins Approval

WASHINGTON, May 10—(AP)—The peace treaty for Italy, termed "too harsh" by many Italian-Americans but upheld by United States officials as the best possible, Friday won 13 to 0 approval of the Senate foreign relations committee.

A like vote also sent to the Senate the peace treaties for Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria. A two-thirds vote is necessary for Senate ratification and President Truman has urged immediate action.

Final approval by all of the big powers would mean withdrawal of occupation troops except for communication forces linked to the Russian zone of Austria.

Main opposition to the Italian treaty, which was hammered out by Big Four foreign ministers in Paris and New York, centred on its demilitarization clauses.

Lad Told By Father His Feet Amputated

CHICAGO, May 10 —(AP)— How does one tell his six-year-old son that his feet are gone?

HOWARD RICHEY CARRIED TO HIS BOY'S hospital bed a model airplane and two toy guns with holsters to take some of the bitterness from the telling.

Young Dale Richey, injured in a gasoline explosion April 1, has been unaware that both his feet had been amputated.

Husky-voiced, the father said gently: "Your legs are shorter than they were before.

"They were so badly burned that the doctors had to take off the feet. You will have to learn to walk again."

DALE STARED INTENTLY AT A COMIC book on his bed.

"How will I be able to do that?" he asked.

"All the soldiers in the war who had their legs cut off had to learn how to walk all over again," his father said.

Dale considered this, and said: "I'd rather sit."

A nurse removed the splints which had kept him from knowing of the amputation. He looked at his bandaged legs but said nothing.

Then, still dry-eyed, he turned to play with his new airplane.

Mother's Day

Mother's Day has come to be widely observed as Mothers' Day. It was instituted as a personal appeal to each individual to remember a particular mother—his or her own. The suggestion was that on this occasion each one should in some way convey a message of affection to his or her mother, or pay a tribute to her memory if she had passed on.

This personal appeal has been obscured and the original idea lost, far too generally. It is now a day when honor is paid to motherhood, rather than to mother; to mothers in general rather than to the one to which each person owes homage.

That is a departure which is to be regretted. It blurs the keen sense of obligation and loyalty which every person should feel toward the one woman who gave him life.

Motherhood is entitled to respect and regard, but this particular day is Mother's Day. For each of us it should be sacred to Her, and to her alone. If living, she is the person to whom our thoughts should turn and our affection be made known. If dead, she is the one whose face should be thrown upon the screen of memory. Mothers are held in high esteem by every normal man and woman; but to each, child or adult, there can be only one on Mother's Day.

Housing or Homes?

There is some satisfaction to be found in the Dominion Bureau of Statistic's figures that about 62,700 new dwelling units were completed in this country last year, for this is an increase of 29 per cent over 1945. These new units should accommodate between 200,000 and 300,000 people.

That a certain proportion of this number were home dwellers moving into new ones is not relevant, since even so it left a corresponding number of vacancies available for new owners or tenants. The figures rather emphasize the gravity of the situation since the improvement caused by such a number of new homes is hardly noticeable.

But the shortage of roofs over people's heads is not the whole story of the housing shortage. If there were not a man, nor a woman, nor a child in all Canada without a place to live, this would not mean that the problem had been solved. Studies of hygiene show the incidence of disease to be in a definite ratio to unsanitary, damp and overcrowded homes. All we can do to provide hygiene in public schools is lost unless healthy homes are also provided. And all the new "dwelling units" we rush to completion will not solve the problem of acommodation so long as families are still reared in unsanitary quarters quaintly designated "homes."

Suggestive Similarity

There is little hope that any survive of the 15 persons aboard the TCA plane which failed to land at the Vancouver airport almost two weeks ago. Intensive search of land and sea has failed to find any trace of the air-liner, which was almost over the landing field when last heard from. The tragedy is very similar to that which happened in the same area a few years ago. That plane also reported that it was coming in for a landing which it failed to make. The wreck was found months later, on a mountain to the east of the city.

Speculation as to the cause is useless and could be harmful or unjust in placing blame for the recent disaster. The report of the official investigators must be awaited before the cause—or causes—can be known. It may in fact never be known just why the accident occured; as it is not positively known why the former one took place.

Similarity of the circumstances suggests that geography may have had something to do with both occurrences. This will no doubt be dealt with in the investigators' report. Vancouver is flanked by mountains to the north and east, and when visibility is poor the liability to miscalculation is obvious. It may be necessary to establish special signalling devices on the mountain tops to keep pilots posted as to their exact location when conditions are unfavorable.

The Same Root Cause

News that food riots broke out in six large cities in China's "rice bowl" can hardly be surprising to anyone who has pondered the fact that the Chinese "dollar" is worth just one-twelfth of one cent. That is, in official calculations. In private barter, all markets being "black", it is worth anything less than that in buying power.

The "rice bowl," it is to be noted, is the part of China most noted for production of the national food. What conditions may be elsewhere it is agonizing to speculate.

But one fact deserves attention. Stripped of obscuring differences of circumstance, what is wrong in China is what is wrong in Canada and the United States. There isn't enough production. That is the root cause of the economic troubles there—and here.

An Age Without Standards

The Right Reverend R. J. Renison, Anglican Bishop of Moosonee, has referred to this age as the "age without standards." He says that the current wave of mechanized thinking has imposed upon humanity its severest shock since the fall of the Roman Empire.

It is surely apparent that there has been an appalling decline in morality and piety. Everywhere is there a decided drift from religion. In England, for instance, not one in ten now goes to divine worship.

The war has revealed a collapse of Christian moral standards. Truthfulness and honesty seem to be on the ebb, while there is an alarming spread of sexual laxity and juvenile crime.

The most frightening feature of this situation is that many people appear to have lost their sense of shame. They excuse themselves by an appeal to pseudo-scientific "repressions." There has grown up an entire jargon of terms designed to whitewash human wilfulness and weakness, and even lust—in terms of irresistible impulses.

The idea of man as a responsible person is in danger of disappearing with the lost sense of a living God.

The tragic truth is that a new generation has arisen which literally does not understand the conventional language of religion.

Man realizes, as he has always done, that he cannot save himself. But he is content to be lost because his philosophers are telling him that the path of least resistance is not only the easiest path but the logical and inevitable path.

All this adds up to the blazing fact that there is a greater need in the world for religion and for the ministrations of religion than there ever was before.

This is the time then, for believers to be at their active best. This is the time for churchgoers to be most faithful and to bear witness in their own lives of the world's need for God.

Churchill and Byron

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

A reader takes me to task, in a friendly way, for giving Winston Churchill credit for the immortal phrase about "blood and toil and sweat and tears." He writes:

"It is long overdue for someone to break the myth about Churchill being the author of this phrase. . . . If Mr. Philpott will look up 'The Age of Bronze,' by Lord Byron, chapter 14, he will find the original of this famous phrase."

PHILPOTT

With the help of some obliging library sleuths here is what I find in Byron's poem, "The Age of Bronze."

Verse 14 reads as follows:

The Sabine pillars sent their brothers out to battle.
Why? For rent.
Year after year they voted, cent per cent, blood, sweat and tear-wrung millions.
Why? For rent.

WITH ALL RESPECT for Byron, who wrote those words over a century before Churchill rolled them out, the great wartime Prime Minister cannot be accused of plagiarism of that phrase.

The greatest phrases of the greatest phrase-makers finally became common property. You do not need to put quotation marks around Lincoln's definition of democracy—yet there is never any doubt as to its origin.

Moreover, Churchill was using those words as tools with which to do a job. No one in all history ever did a better one than he did that day—when the destiny of mankind hung by a hair.

How much weaker his words would have been had he said:

"I offer you (as Lord Byron said) 'blood, toil, etc.'"

I WAS PROBABLY the first writer in North America to reveal the origin of the historic phrase that Churchill misused at Fulton, Missouri, when he launched the campaign to line up the western world against Soviet Russia.

That was the one about the "Iron Curtain." I was able to show that Churchill had swiped that one from the writings of Hitler's evil genius of propaganda, Paul Joseph Goebbels. But I was wrong in one detail. I said it was the first used in the so-called "Last Testament" of Goebbels, written just before he committed suicide.

The London Times, Manchester Guardian, and finally Associated Press later did detective work on that phrase. They showed that Goebbels had used it over and over again in his last years of life always to help Germany by making trouble between us and Russia.

WHEN I WAS a boy we used to have a saying: "Sticks and stones will break my bones, but names will never hurt you."

What a foolish lie that is. Names can and do hurt human beings far more than sticks and stones ever can.

You can make a person's life unbearable—say in a small town—by starting some malicious rumor about that person. More than one election has been fought and won by a "whispering campaign" in which some slander has been a more deadly weapon than a pistol or dagger.

In this age of mass production, the mass smear has become one of the most often used and most deadly weapons of wordy warfare. Thus, to some leftists all business men are "fascists." To some of the latter, every trade unionist leader is a "communist." All real liberals are "reds."

Indeed, so recklessly is the smear-word "communist" used nowadays that youngsters can't protest at paying eight cents for the pre-war nickel chocolate bar without being smeared as "red agents" or "communists."

THERE ARE SOME comic aspects to the present war of words. The misuse of the word "appeasement" is really funny.

One of the earliest literary detective jobs I ever did was on this word "appeasement." Well over ten years ago I showed that "appeasement" was first practiced by Jacob, who had played a very shabby trick against his brother Esau, cheating the latter out of his birthright. The word "appease" first appears in written records in Genesis 32, verse 20.

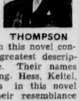
A Great Book

Over the week-end I read a book which first came to me in manuscript form some months ago, and has haunted me ever since. My first impression — of tremendous breadth, power, and depth, of monstrous horror and profound pity—was confirmed. "The End Is Not Yet" by Fritz von Unruh is, I think, the only study of Naziism which has penetrated its heart — the sickness of the modern soul.



THOMPSON

The novel is a descent into hell, and the hell is in the minds and souls of men. It is a hell peopled by monstrous beasts, like the gargoyles of Notre Dame, of which this novel contains one of the greatest descriptions in literature. Their names are Hitler, Goering, Hess, Keitel, but the characters in this novel are symbolic. Their resemblance to persons alive or dead, is, indeed, a remarkable coincidence."

And it is, one feels, coincidence. Von Unruh does not believe that the Nuremberg trials exorcised the evil genii of our age. The cause lies deeper. Once, another novelist, perhaps the greatest, Fedor Dostoevski, put the same unerring finger on the source of social despair, in the person of Raskolnikov, in "Crime and Punishment."

RASKOLNIKOV was a little Hitler who killed but one person. But the source of his crime was the same. Like Hitler, out of the dregs of the intellectual proletariat he had cut himself off from human solidarity, and killed out of a will to power—to prove that he was absolutely independent of all morality, which triumph is the pinnacle of the spirit of dominion.

Von Unruh's Hitler is a gigantic Raskolnikov, an almost anonymous spirit of the evil which is reflected even in the faces of his opponents and enemies—in all of them except Uhle, the unclassable emigre and the figure of the unknown soldier of World War 1. He, having survived 20 years in a quarry near Verdun, is brought forth by Uhle on the eve of this last war to bring the message that life is faith, devotion, and love, or is un-life — hence death.

Through Uhle the author expresses the philosophy which has never deserted him since, as a young Prussian officer, he saw a vision of truth and reality in the slaughterhouse of Verdun in 1916.

Scion of an aristocratic, military Prussian family, educated with Hohenzollern princes, he was commissioned as an officer to write a propaganda drama to keep up the morale of German troops. Instead, in "The Way of Sacrifice" he produced a flaming denunciation of the witchcraft of blood sacrifice of youth and a call to brotherhood. He was court-martialed, and saved only by the intervention of his general who secretly shared his views.

VON UNRUH went home to call for a new Germany based on the revelations that had come to front-fighters. The people heard, but not the ruling powers. His last appearance in Berlin was before 15,0000 persons on the eve of Hitler's triumph, when he uttered the awful prophecy that Hitler would mean the end of the Reich.

Then he left Germany for 14 years of lonely exile. In France, interned as an enemy alien, he was rescued from German armies by President Roosevelt on the intervention of Albert Einstein.

Here he has lived in solitude, shunned by organized emigre groups. The revolution for which he waits has not come. He cannot save himself from the awful solitude of man from man, which he sees as the source of despairing evil. Yet this novel, at times unbearable, is so diffused with pity and so lightened with the splendor of love that it sends out the ray of man's unquenchable hope.

Farm Loans

BY CHESTER BLOOM

OTTAWA: Prairie farmers have made a remarkable record of repayments on credit extended to them under government guarantee for the purchase of farm machinery, livestock and other improvements. More than two-thirds of the total loans of $13,262,307.76 were made in those three prairie provinces since the Farm Improvement Loans Act came into force on March 1, 1945. Of this total of more than $13¼ millions of loans, 39.06 per cent, or $5,181,161.94 has been repaid.

Up to December 31, 1946, not a single claim had been made under the government guarantee of 10 per cent against loss by any of the banks extending the loans.

Number of loans and the total amounts made in the three prairie provinces for 1946, with the number and amounts for the ten months of 1945 in brackets, are as follows: Alberta, 4,798, $3,388,114.70; (1,633, $1,250,447.85); Saskatchewan, 4,075, $3140,157.35; (1,035, $834,498.85); Manitoba, 1,928, $1,397,538.74; (751, $537,450.53).

In 1946, a total of 13,030 loans aggregating $9,880,565.74 were made, more than two thirds on the prairies, as against 4,311 loans aggregating $3,381,742.02 in 10 months of 1945. The increase was 202 per cent.

During 1946, loans for farm implements and trucks accounted for $7,488,347 or over 73 per cent. It is estimated these purchases represented an actual sales volume of $12,500,000.

Other improvements covered by the loans included about 20 per cent for permanent improvements on farms including buildings and clearing and breaking land. Banks have co-operated.

Smallpox

New York Times

In 1875 about 2,000 died of smallpox in what is now the city of Greater New York. Though vaccination had been introduced, its efficacy was then still flouted.

Today we have a different story to tell. The few cases of smallpox that have appeared have all been isolated. At least 500,000 residents of the city have had themselves vaccinated in response to the Health Commissioner's request and advice. There has been no panic. At no time was there any cause to fear an epidemic.

"Do you have Matins at this church?" asked the visitor.

"We used to have," replied the verger, "but the vicar tripped over them, so'e put down a carpet!"

The song writer was a guest at a party. He loaded himself with food and drink, and then began annoying the piano keys. When he finished, the host walked up to him.

"While you were playing," smiled the host, "I made a bet with a friend. What is the name of the song you just played?"

The song writer smiled proudly. "It's one of my new compositions."

The host nodded. "Then I win my bet," he said happily. "My friend insisted the piano was out of tune!"

Controlling The Fund

BY HARPER PROWSE, MLA

It would be unwise to forecast what form of administration will be adopted by parliament for the Army canteen fund. But, judging from the records of the proceeding of the committee, and from the attitude of mind I saw displayed by members of the committee when I appeared before them when the Canadian Legion presented its brief on this question recently, I believe that the fund will be administered by a central committee and no attempt will be made to allocate the fund on a provincial basis.

I base this conclusion on two sets of facts. First, the obvious shortcomings of the system of provincial allotments which was used after the first war. And second, the record of satisfactory service now being achieved by both the Navy and Air Force Funds which are centrally administered with local subcommittees making the personal contacts and recommendations.

THE LEGION'S recommendation was that the fund should be administered by a directorate to be made up of a president, to be appointed by the minister of veterans' affairs in consultation with the veterans' organizations; two executive directors, one nominated by the Canadian Legion and one nominated by the National Council of Veterans' Associations of Canada (which includes the Canadian Corps Association, the Army, Navy and Air Force, Amputations, etc.); and a secretary to be supplied by the department of veterans' affairs.

This executive group would be assisted by eleven directors, one representing each province one the United Kingdom and one the U.S.A. They would act as provincial chairmen, each being responsible for the administration of the fund in his own province, subject to the policies and supervisory control of the executive group.

The Legion also suggested that the funds from all three services should be co-ordinated under a five member board consisting of the presidents of each of the three funds and a nominee from the Legion and one from the National Council of Veterans' Organizations. However, as the present parliamentary committee is limited to dealing with the Army fund only, it is doubtful if this latter action can be expected in the immediate future.

THE LEGION also suggested that the fund should be invested centrally under supervision of the government and the operations carried on by means of imprest accounts in the hands of provincial chairmen. We pointed out that in our opinion it was desirable to have a sub-committee which had authority to act in each town of any size so that the fund would be immediately available to any veteran in need wherever he might live. To do this it would probably be necessary to provide sub-committee chairmen with limited imprest accounts which could be replaced as depleted. There would be no paid positions and secretarial assistance as required would be supplied by the welfare division of the department of veterans affairs which would also assist with necessary investigations.

The points stressed in the Legion brief were the necessity for having the fund controlled by the men who created it, by giving them, through the veterans' organizations, the right to nominate members of the directorate, and the necessity of having the fund made available at as many points as possible so that immediate assistance would be always available when required.

IT WAS ALSO stressed that the fund should not be used to provide assistance where it should properly be made available through some official agency such as the unemployment insurance commission, unemployment relief, department of veterans' affairs, or other similar agencies. On the question of educational assistance the Legion suggested bursaries for needy and deserving cases, but reiterated its stand that the education of children whose fathers died in service should be the responsibility of the senior government.

Letters to the editor should be brief and discuss no more than one subject at a time. The name and address of the writer must be included, but not necessarily for publication if the correspondent so requests. Letters thus received become the property of THE EDMONTON BULLETIN whose editors, for obvious reasons, cannot undertake to enter into correspondence about them and reserve the right to delete extraneous or unduly controversial matter.

WOMEN'S TAX

Editor, Bulletin — Surely the most surprising omission in the new budget is the failure to rectify the status of a working wife earning more than $250 a year.

Do Finance Minister Abbott then and his colleagues not realize that thousands of married women in Canada today are working in order to keep up a decent standard of living for their families? Have they no conception of what it means to get up in the early hours of the morning in order to leave everything ship-shape for the family before leaving for work? To return home tired at night only to start in again—cooking, washing, ironing. Why, these women are the very best of our Canadian women. They have courage and grit to no end. And what does our government at Ottawa do to show its appreciation? Continues taking from them a big slice of his hard-earned money. How can we do this thing?

HOW WILL THEY GROW UP?

Editor, Bulletin: With all the hue and cry cluttering up the radios and the press, likewise high powered commentators, about the rising cost of living, building materials sky-rocketing, wage earners closing down factories for higher wages, the Big Four conference over and a thousand and one things, Communism apparently is the big thing to watch. Everybody of importance or otherwise delves into the leadership of delegations making demands upon the governments of the day in an attempt to investigate this, that and the other thing and where communistic leadership is exposed to the public gaze, there is a big forore as high powered searchlights are turned on with almost relentless fury but what has fascinated me was the terrific speed with which the eight cent candy bar overshot the entire country, one might say, overnight.

Merchants I have talked to where no organization was apparent, report very few, if any, candy bars being sold over the counters. The kids have organized and are battling for their demand of a five cent bar and apparently making it stick.

All through the press and radio reports carry the results of their successful, so far, drive. In many cases the kids left school and paraded much to the amusement of the lookers-on. I have seen these parades and noted the eagerness, the zestfulness, in fact expressions of the keenest joy as these lads march with their placards prominently displayed and they are given much encouragement but is this a good thing for kids? I say in all seriousness that the fact that these kids are fighting for a privilege due them it is one of the worst things that could have befallen our country for is it not true all through the ages that impressions gained while young, and fostered, maintain a lasting impression on the young minds that will follow them throughout their lives? And when in the short space of 15 or 20 years what are we to expect from these then grown up young men if their fight for a five cent bar proves successful providing the manufacturers maintain the same sized bar?

When kids have to resort to this practice to gain a point there is something wrong, whether it is democracy or what-have-you.

PUNISH PARENTS

Editor Bulletin. — Since the juvenile delinquency rate seems to be increasing in the younger age, I would like to suggest the parents of these children be made an example of and have a fine enforced on them, for they, after all are responsible for their children's actions and should pay for the mistakes of their children which are consequently their mistakes.

If the proposed fine of about $50 were imposed on the faulty parents of each child they would be more concerned with the behavior of their children and, therefore, decrease the possibility of any further attacks made by these poorly brought-up boys.

WORKING WIVES

Editor, Bulletin.—Regarding the tax on working married women, when Mr. Abbott took over Mr. Ilsley's job we expected a fair deal, but what a shock we received.

Why are they trying to force married women to give up jobs when help is so hard to get, and why are they bringing women from Europe out here to work and yet wives of their own veterans are forced to quit work and stay at home? My husband is a veteran of the first war. We lost our home after the depression. We managed to secure enough to put a payment on another small home and I am going out to work to try and help pay for this one so that we will have a roof over our heads when we get old and not have to go on relief.

So as a reward for trying to get along and be a credit to our country, I have to pay double tax on my wages because I am taxed as single now and pay taxes on my wages and then at the end of the year anything I earn over $250 will be added on to my husband's taxable income and he has to pay on it again, so that means married women have to pay a double tax on our earnings.

If Mr. Abbott thinks it is fun to go to work all day, then come home at night and do your washing, ironing and housework, I would like him to try it for a while.

TOO LONG IN ROOMS

Editor, Bulletin: Can anything be done about the housing situation, also room rent? One could get an apartment formerly for the price of rooms these days.

My husband is a war veteran. I came to Canada in 1929. Then the depression came. I have been living in rooms ever since, always one room, exactly eighteen years. Can you blame anyone for being depressed and fed up. The sooner something is done about it the better.

I don't blame war brides going back when they are unable to find a place to live. But still hoping.

Farmer's "Buoy" Digs Big Crater

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP)—Mines from the war in the Pacific still are being washed up on Canada's Pacific shores from time to time and last night the navy told, in a warning vein, the story of a Queen Charlotte Island farmer and the "buoy" he found.

The farmer discovered the "buoy" on the beach of Graham Island recently and hauled it 20 miles across the island to his farm. The navy heard about it and sent a naval mine disposal officer who took one look and decided he'd come to the right place.

For the "buoy" was a mine, which though damaged, was still potent as the navy officer proved when he blew it up with rifle fire and left a huge crater in the farmer's field.

At Annual May Festival

Riverdale League Crowns Queen

More than 250 children, and a sprinkling of adults packed the Riverdale Community hall last night for the opening of the annual May festival, sponsored by the Riverdale Ladies' Sewing Circle. A repeat performance will be given tonight commencing at 8 p.m.

KIDDIES RANGING from the ages of four to 14 years participated in their version of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The play centred around the dream of Mary, portrayed by Marguerite Jacobs. She dreams she is Snow White, and is visited by her friends, "The dwarfs." The witch then enters and is going to force her to eat the apple, but "the cubs," played by the 23rd pack of Riverdale, entered as "G" Men" and chased her away.

The cast was as follows: Marguerite Jacobs, Marion Brown, Ruth Jettkant, Joan Bolte, Helen Bolte, Doreen Jensen, Lois Waldron, Joan Walker, Marilynn Smith, Jimmie Dubetz, Neville Pullishy Bobby Jones, Niels Jensen and Bobby Coyle. The play was directed by Edith Moon and Helen Jackson. Pianist was James Byrant.

The second number on the program consisted of 14 youngsters in a maypole dance. They are as follows: Darleen Millar, June Reid, Wendy Walker, Winnona Rogers, Gerda Bolt, Pat Boyd, Carole Churnachin, Margaret Schurman, Marjorie Smith, Marjorie Leng, Bonny Millar, Lornette Fox, Shirley Childerstone and Jackie Fenner. The play was directed by Mrs. T. Reid, Mrs. Rogers, and Mrs. Fawcus.

The Buchanan Young People's Group, presented a play entitled, "The Jack and the Joker."

Catch Juveniles Syphoning Gas

Caught stealing gasoline when their "jalopy" ran out of fuel while on the way home Friday night, two juveniles, one 15 years old, the other 16 were apprehended by city police.

Police received a call that two boys were syphoning gasoline from vehicles parked in the Oram and Tucker service station parking lot, 116 street and Jasper avenue. They responded and found the youths hiding behind a truck. Also discovered was a hose dangling from the gas tank of a truck and a can containing about three gallons of gasoline.

The two boys told police they needed the gasoline in order to get their vehicle home. The pair have been turned over to juvenile authorities.

Transport Board Ends Sittings At Ottawa

By John LeBlanc

OTTAWA, May 10 —(CP)— After more than 1,500,000 words of testimony had flowed across the courtroom, the Board of Transport Commissioners yesterday ended initial Ottawa hearings on the railways' side of the freight-rate increase case and prepared to cross the country to hear from those who would pay the $87,000,000-a-year bill.

SUBMISSION of the railways' basic case came to an abrupt close late in the day, just a little more than 12 weeks after the railways had opened presentations in their claim for 30-percent general increases on freight rates. The period was devoted almost exclusively to evidence of witnesses from the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.

Until late in the final day, it had not been determined whether the smaller railways—for whom the Railway Association of Canada had 10 witnesses on hand—would be called upon but a rapid-fire compromise effected in court resulted in their evidence being entered in the form of exhibits during an hour's extension of the session.

The board immediately went into consultation with counsel on regional hearings, which will open in the Maritimes late this month and move across the country, to give shippers and others interested an opportunity to express their views.

NO AGENDA for the regional sessions was worked out Friday, but Chief Commissioner, J. A. Cross declared it would be announced in a few days.

As indicated by provincial counsel, regional hearings may run as follows: Halifax, three days; Charlottetown, one day; Saint John, N.B., two days; Vancouver, five days; Regina, two or three days; Winnipeg, two or three days; Edmonton, about one week. Ontario and Quebec have had no representatives at the hearings, and it was not indicated whether regional sessions would be held in these provinces.

While the starting date remained indefinite, May 26 at Halifax appeared a likely choice.

ON RETURNING to the capital, the board will hear rebuttal evidence from the railways and then final argument from counsel.

15 Cases Listed Opening Assizes

The May assizes will open at Edmonton's court house Monday morning with 15 cases listed for disposal. Mr. Justice Boyd McBride will be the presiding judge during the opening week.

John D. Blake, Edmonton, convicted some time ago on theft and uttering forged documents, will appear for sentence, and Leo Perras, also of Edmonton, will be sentenced on charges of forging and uttering three cheques. He pleaded guilty to these charges at the last assizes.

Alex Gladue and Arthur De La Salle both face morals charges, and Walter Doskotch will answer to a charge of carrying an offensive weapon and two of forgery.

Elmer E. Brinker will appear on a bigamy charge, and Jack Ross on a charge of theft. Duncan Sinclair and Lem Chow face false pretence charges, and Alfred S. Brown and Kenneth Stuart a charge of breaking, entering and theft. A theft of lumber charge will be brought against Tom Prokopuik, and Howard Magnant and Norman Giroux illegal possession. Wilfred Bourgeois and Ray Moore will appear on a breaking and entering charge.

Plan New Probe Of CBC Controls

By VICTOR MACKIE

Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, ONT., May 10—Method of control of radio broadcasting by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will again be questioned during sittings of the parliamentary committee on radio broadcasting at this session, it was indicated by Donald Fleming (PC-Englinton) during the committee's organization meeting Friday.

The assumption of wave-lengths by the CBC, which were formerly allocated to private radio stations CKY, Winnipeg; CFRB, Toronto and CFRN, Calgary, will also be raised during the committee meetings this year. Mr. Fleming suggested the committee should meet more frequently than at the last session because those two contentious questions would take considerable time to discuss.

LAST YEAR the Canadian Association of Broadcasters recommended to the committee that an independent radio appeal board should be set up to which private radio stations could take appeals from decisions or regulations of the CBC. In its final report the committee said further study should be given the proposal.

Approval of the CBC's decision to use clear high-powered channels in Manitoba, Alberta and Ontario for publicly-owned stations was also contained in the final report last year. Progressive Conservative members indicated disagreement with those decisions at the last session. The final report was not unanimous, they stressed.

Ralph Maybank (Liberal, Winnipeg South Centre) was re-elected chairman and Rene Beudoin (Liberal, Vaudreuil, Quebec) again was named vice-chairman.

Visitors Inspect Tantalum Plant

The several scientific processes of transforming crushed and screened tantalite ore into highly heat-resistant metal known as tantalum Friday for the first time here was described and demonstrated at the new plant of the Tantalum Refining and Mining Corporation. Dr. Daniel Gardner, plant manager and consulting adviser, conducted the tour and explained the steps in the reduction of the ore to metal.

INVITED GUESTS included Acting-Mayor John Munro, City Commissioner D. B. Menzies, American Consul Paul Siddicum, representatives from the department of physics, University of Alberta, and several other prominent citizens.

PREMISES OF THE plant have been completely modernized and are located in a former warehouse of the American army. On a tracked gangway 12 feet wide the different laboratories are flanked on a 50-foot width and the entire 150-foot length of the building.

Scenes during the demonstration were reminiscent of the scientific type of film in which elaborately involved gadgets perform awe-inspiring and spectacular duties.

Dr. Gardner described the process in technical and scientific terms and then reduced this to the following description:

"This machinery was designed to produce tantalum oxide and to separate it from iron titanium, manganese and tin, and, finally, from columbium. Once the oxide is formed it is reduced to metal by applying a reducing agent through induction heat."

Continual cannon fire has been heard 100 miles from the scene of the firing.

(Until recently they were 5c plus 1c excise tax paid to the Federal Govt.)

We at Willards know you aren't happy about this candy bar situation. Neither are we. But frankly we can't help ourselves. The 1c excise tax and the 8% sales tax must still be paid to the Federal Government. Furthermore, here are other difficulties which we, like most candy manufacturers, are up against.

CHOCOLATE BARS REQUIRE COCOA BEANS

On April 2nd these cost us 10c a lb. On April 3rd we had to pay 23½c a lb. because the Federal Government stopped the subsidy on Cocoa Beans. The Government also charged the 13½c increase on stocks in our warehouse.

CHOCOLATE BARS REQUIRE SUGAR

And the Federal Government which controls all sugar supplies has raised the price from 7c to 8c a pound. In 1939 we paid slightly less than 5c a lb. for sugar.

CHOCOLATE BARS REQUIRE MILK PRODUCTS

Glucose, Nuts, Fruits, Packaging . . . and the prices on these have risen 60% and more since 1939.

CHOCOLATE BARS REQUIRE LABOR

And wages are substantially higher than in 1939.

Do Chocolate Bars Sell for 5¢ in the United States?

Prices in the United States range all the way from 5 to 10c (and there is no tax in the U.S.). Most bars are priced at from 6c to 7c. In many cases, these bars weigh only 1 ounce. Willards bars range from 1½ ozs. to over 2 ozs.

We would like you to know that the weight and quality of Willards Chocolate Bars assure you the same or better value per pound you get in high quality packaged candies.

Frankly, sincerely, that's the situation!

GEMS FROM SWEDENBORG:

"The veriest truth of the Church is that love to the Lord and the neighbour are the essentials of Religion. These are extinguished by indulgence in evils."

"It is an inviolable Divine law that man shall be in freedom: and that good and truth, or charity and faith, shall be implanted in freedom and never under compulsion; for what is received in a state of compulsion does not remain, but is dissipated."

—Arcana Coelestia

TODAY'S MESSAGE

Mother's Day

First proclaimed in 1914, Mother's Day has been annually set aside for special observance in honor of the home and motherhood. It is a wholsome and good sign when children honor and cherish their mothers. But for the thoughtful boy or girl, there is really no need for a Mother's Day to encourage him or her to prove affection and devotion. Nor do grown men or women need any special prompting to show kindness toward the person to whom they owe so much.

But there are, unfortunately, some whom Mother's Day should cause to search their inmost hearts: growing children who cause grief and worry to their mothers because of waywardness or disrespect; absent sons and daughters who neglect their mothers and have almost forgotten the homes where they were reared and knew such rich and tender love.

There was a mother once who poured out her life for her many children—she had four sons and five daughters—until they were happily and successfully married. But when she became a bedridden paralytic, not one of her children was willing to take her in. They did not even want to share in paying for her in a private home. Eventually, she died, sad, lonely, neglected by all her children, in the charity ward of a city hospital.

The children wept when their mother died. They buried her with the proceeds of a policy for which one son had paid a small weekly premium. She is dead a long time now, but there is still no stone over her grave and none of her sons or daughters can even point out the plot where she lies.

This, happily, is a rare case. It is cited solely to emphasize the claim of mothers to the gratitude and love of their children by showing how shabby and mean in the eyes of decent men are those who fail to honor and remember the most truly unselfish friend they have ever known.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Record Sports Day Planned for Lacombe

LACOMBE, May 10 — One of the biggest sports days ever held in Lacombe is being planned for May 24, at the fair grounds here. A wide variety of events will be staged and one of the highlights of the day will be a 45 minute display of fireworks in the evening.

Plans are well advanced and every indication points to a very successful day.

RACING FEATURES will be made up of chuck wagon, tractor, bicycle, horse and cart races. An event is being scheduled to take place on the track every 10 minutes.

Four teams have entered the baseball tournament and it is expected that at least four games will be played during the day with a final scheduled for 7 o'clock in the evening.

The fastball tournament, as in the past, will feature three different classes, with the rural school teams having a class for themselves. In addition, town teams and high school aggregations will have a chance to compete in the men's and women's open competitions.

A. R. PATRICK, principal of the Lacombe school, is in charge of the tournament, and will accept entries.

Tug-of-war contests, under the direction of Gordon Ferguson, will also be held during the day.

In addition to the local competitions being staged, a good assortment of rides, sideshows and concessons will be operated throughout the day.

Home Burns

GLENDON, May 10—The home of Mr. and Mrs. S. Pashnaiks was destroyed recently when fire swept through the dwelling. The blaze is reported to have started near a chimmney at the back of the house Mr. and Mrs. Pashnaiks and family are living with relations until other accommodations can be obtained.

Minister Leaves

FERINITOSH, May 10—The Rev. R. Boyes left recently for Brownvale, where he will become minister of the church of Nazarene. He was accompanied by his daughter, Joan, while his wife and other children are visiting relatives in Eastern Canada.

Recent visitors to Ferintosh were: Mrs. James Lake of Wetaskiwin and Mrs. Harry Easton of Jasper, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Gould, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fox of Dunblaine, Saskatchewan, who were visiting their daughter, Mrs. B. Holmlund.

Present Play

RYLEY, May 10—A one-act play, entitled "The Will," was presented here recently under the sponsorship of the fourth division of the United Ladies Aid recently.

Those taking part in the play were: M. J. O'Brien, Vic Thygeson, Noah Solberg, John Goodall, George McDonald, Murriel Williams and Robert Ireland.

Mrs. George Hudson of Edmonton sang several numbers.

Old-Timer Dies

NEW NORWAY, May 10—Eber White, New Norway farmer, and old time resident, died in his home Monday. He was 52 years old. The funeral was held at the New Norway United Church Friday.

He is survived by Mrs. White and son Bobbie; two sisters Mrs. M.A. Finlay and Mrs. R. Goudie, both of Edmonton, and two brothers, Roy of Bulwak, and T.A. White of Prince Albert, Sask.

Leaving Edson

EDSON, May 10—The Rev. Canon and Mrs. V.A. Hunt were guests of honor at a reception in the parish hall. Leaving to make their home in Guelph, Ont., they were presented with farewell gifts. Presentations were made by Mrs. Donald Buck to Mrs. Hunt and by J. Ball to Canon Hunt.

Search for Body

PEACE RIVER, May 10—Search for the body of R.C. Bissell, believed to be drowned near High Prairie last November, is being carried out as the result of the finding of the body of J. Cooper, one of the two men lost. Icing conditions made it impossible for a thorough search. RCMP are carrying out the search.

Plan Carnival

RED DEER, May 10— Four bids are being made for the honor of carnival queen in a carnival to be presented May 24. Along with the naming of the queen, carnival night will have many events, such as the soap box derby, which will open the days activities.

Eight teams have entered the fastball tournament, which is an open competition. Climax of the carnival will come in the evening with the crowning of the queen at a big street dance in the centre of the city.

Issue Permits

LACOMBE, May 10—Total value of building permits here took another jump recently when two more permits for $5,000 were taken out. Charles L. Treleaven, formerly of Wetaskiwin, took out one for a home in the northwest part of town, and another was issued for a service station on Railway street. The garage is expected to be started immediately.

87 Years Old

LACOMBE, May 10.—Mrs. David Hill observed her 87th birthday at her home in the Milton district, north-east of Lacombe recently, when neighbors called to congratulate her. Mrs. Hill was born in Scotland and was married there. In 1897 she moved to Iowa with her husband, and in the year 1909 came to Canada, settling in the Milton district.

Pioneer Dies

FORT ASSINIBOINE, May 10—A funeral service for Wesley Cartwright was held recently at Barrhead, with the Rev. W. Graham officiating. Mr. Cartwright was a pioneer settler of this district.

He is survived by his wife, four sons, and seven daughters.

Three sets of color "detector tubes" enable the human eye to distinguish colors.

Fire Destroys Summer Cottage

LACOMBE, May 10—Fire destroyed the summer cottage of Dr. M.J. Tuttle on the lake shore at Aspen Beach, Gull Lake, recently. Only the stone fireplace remains standing.

Residents of the disrict tore down fences and kept the flames from spreading to other cottages to the north and south.

A host of Lacombe men, armed with gunny sacks and blasting powder, rushed to the scene of the fire, but had little chance to squelch the blaze, as it was fanned by a stronge breeze.

The blaze apparently started in the kitchen of the cottage and Ernie Fernie, one of the early men to arrive at the cottage, stated, "the cottage was one-third gone when I arrived."

Cause of the fire is unknown. The cottage had not been occupied since last fall as far as is known.

Buys Business

BELLIS, May 10—Andrew Shewchuk, former owner of the hotel here, has purchased the impliment and hardware business from N. Hawrliuk and Mrs. George Radmosky. He was expected to take over the hardware this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hawrliuk are leaving the district to take up farming near Waskatenau.

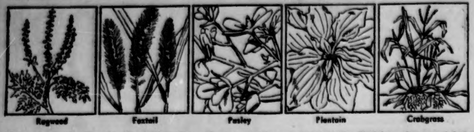
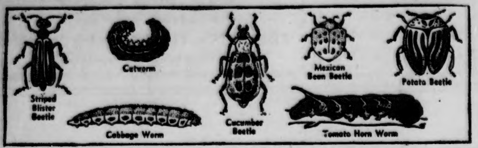
Squelch Insect Pests And Weeds



Two principal allies in the anti-garden axis are weeds and insect pests. Sketches above and below show commoner species of these eternal enemies of the gardener.



Cultivation is a fancy name for the simple act of breaking up the soil's surface layer into small particles and keeping them loose, so that air and water can more easily mix with the soil. Whether you do it with a hoe or a gangplow—it's still cultivation.

Like dishwashing, it's a dull but important chore. It's important because plants can't thrive without air and moisture around their roots. Conscientious cultivation not only increases a garden's yield and improves the product, but helps control weeds.

Start cultivation right after sowing. This scotches the weeds before they grow big enough to rob the soil of nutriment and moisture. An old-fashioned, sharp-edged hoe is the most popular tool for the backyard garden.

Cultivation can be fairly deep at first, but should be kept shallow after seeds sprout, to avoid injuring the roots. Never cultivate right after a rain, as the muddy soil will not crumble properly and will become packed down as you walk along the rows.

GET AFTER WEEDS

Weeding is cultivation's first cousin. It can be done by hand, with a hoe, trowel or special weeding tool, or with sprays, dusting and even—thanks to the war—a flame thrower! The main thing is to catch 'em young and smack 'em down before they are an inch high.

One of the most troublesome weeds in any garden is pusley. It has the persistent vitality of that other pest—the cockroach. Its heavily leafed stems sprawl in every direction, close to the ground. Best way to control it is to pull it up, and even then it's dangerous, because this vigorous pest will not wither for weeks and may mature and spill its tiny, black seeds even when uprooted. So when you pull up pusley, remove it to a dump heap.

One weed to grab quickly, while it's still a delicate pup, is the crabweed. Principally a lawn pest, it gets into gardens, too. When very young, it is just one spike, with small roots, easily dislodged. But at maturity, its bunchy blades, like long crab legs, form a tough troublesome mop.

HERE'S A REAL PEST

Even more pestiferous than crabweed is the plantain. Its short, thick base is anchored firmly in the ground by many long, tough roots, and it's the very devil to dig up. The new 2—4-D weed killers are effective against it and also against ragweed, bane of hayfever victims. Other common weeds are mayweed or dogfennel, with its pretty daisy-like flowers; whose seeds can drift into your garden from the nearest vacant lot; and dodder, a parasitic vine which climbs over plants, attaching itself to them with disk-shaped suckers, like an octopus. Learn to recognize these weeds and battle them into unconditional surrender.

Weeds are bad enough, but Garden Enemy No. 1 is the insectpest. He comes in two kinds—chewer, like potato beetles and caterpillars—and suckers, like aphids or thrips. The chewers nibble away at leaves and stalks and the suckers siphon off the plant's sap through their tiny bills.

With the possible exeptions of rotenone and DDT, no one insecticide will control both these critters, so a gardener needs two types—a stomach poison to combat the chewers and a contact poison to kill the suckers. He must be alert for the very first signs of insect damage and swing into action with dust or spray before he has a complete bug blitz on his hands.

Against chewers, lead arsenate, rotenone, Paris green, cryolite, pyrethum and DDT are effective. Suckers will never get an even break if you douse them with pyrethum , rotenone, or nicotine sulphate.

Some insects, like squash bugs and the green tomato worm, just ignore your chemical warfare and must be hand-picked. Aphids, from whom no crop is safe, succumb to nicotine sulphate carried in a soap-and-water spray.

POISON CUTWORMS

Cutworms working at night, cut plants off at the ground. To stop such nocturnal nonsense, place a teaspoonful of poisoned bran mash at the base of each plant in the evening.

DDT is still pretty much the wonder-boy among insecticides,in spite of the fact that the first extravagant claims for it have simmered down to acknowledgment of its limitations. These are serious, and for that reason, DDT compounds should be used strictly according to manufacturer's directions. It is definitely harmful to squash, pumpkins and other gourd-like plants and retards the growth of tomatoes, beans and strawberries. In the garden, it should always be used in suspension, never in solution. The use of oil solutions of DDT which may injure plants and animals, should be limited to indoor pests, such as roaches, fleas and moths.

The best rule to follow in this, as in every aspect of gardening, is: when in doubt consult your seed dealer.

Greenbacks Nest Of "Wealthy" Mouse

EFFINGHAM, Ill., May 10—(AP)—For weeks John Trett couldn't figure out why $1 and $5 bills were missing from the cash register in his cafe.

Then he punched open the drawer and surprised a large mouse sitting in the till with a $1 bill in its paws.

The mouse fled, but Trett dismantled the cash register and found the missing greenbacks—used by the mouse to make a cozy nest behind the drawer.

Former Ottawa Official Dies

TORONTO, May 10 (CP)—Gerald Horace Brown, 72, of Ottawa, former assistant deputy minister of labor in the federal government, died in his hotel room here Friday. A Canadian government delegate to the International Labor Conference of the League of Nations, he was appointed assistant deputy minister in 1909 and held that post ever since with the exception of one year, when he was secretary of the reconstruction committee of the Borden cabinet. 1917-1918. He retired in 1942.

Denies Britain Near Starvation

LONDON, May 10—(CP)—Dominions Secretary Viscount Addison Thursday angrily denounced in the House of Lords statements by former Food Minister Lord Woolton starvation and at the same time that Britons were on the brink of warned "nothing could be more harmful" to Britain "than to spread the idea all over the world that we are down and out, because we are not."

Speaking during the wind-up of a two-day debate on Britain's food position, Lord Addison declared "the people of this country are not dying of starvation or anything like it, and I protest against statements of that sort being made."

The leader of the house said that "with all the miseries we are enduring, I have the greatest possible confidence that we shall pull through them."

Lord Woolton, who initiated the debate Wednesday, intervened to say he had quoted a distinguished member of the medical profession. "Nothing you have said will give any comfort to the housewives of this country," Viscount Addison retorted.

Use X-Ray Eye On Oil Reservoirs

PITTSBURGH, May 10—(AP)—The penetrating eye of X-Ray has been turned on the world's petroleum reservoirs to seek out more productive recovery methods.

The Gulf Oil Corporation announced today that its researchers at the Harmarville, Pa., laboratory have applied X-Ray technique to oil recovery—and are bringing the oil fields to the scientist's bench to do it.

The announcement said the new development "helps solve the riddle of how oil flows through sand and rocks under any particular field and how it is affected by underground water and gas.

Developers of the technique believe it also will make possible reopening and additional recovery of oil from abandoned wells. Since X-Raying of entire fields would be impractical, researchers brought sections of the fields to the laboratory.

Gets Year In Jail For Manslaughter

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., May 10.—(CP) — Harold Thorsteinson, 23-year-old truck driver, yesterday was sentenced to one year in jail following his conviction on a manslaughter charge. The charge resulted from a traffic accident in which two men and two women were killed Christmas Eve. His truck collided with an automobile driven by James E. Jones, one of the victims.

Motorist Arrested After Accident

A motorist, with both hands cut and bandaged, was arrested about 11:30 a.m. Friday by city police on a charge of dangerous driving after an accident on the St. Albert Trail early Friday.

He is Daniel D. McInnes, 10429 87 avenue who told police he was driving along the highway alone in his vehicle when he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming vehicle. He said the next thing he knew he was in the ditch with the car on its side, up against a telephone pole.

About 9:30 a.m. police were informed that Miss Isla Hanford, 9645 78 avenue, was in the University hospital suffering head injuries believed inflicted as a result of a traffic accident. When questioned police would make no statement connecting Miss Hanford with the McInnes accident.

Four Escaped Arabs Give Themselves Up

JERUSALEM, May 10 (Reuters)—Four of the 167 Arabs who escaped from Acre prison in a dramatic jail break on Sunday gave themselves up last night following a Palestine government offer not to prosecute those who surrendered before midnight on May 16. After that date the 163 Arabs and 29 Jewish terrorists still at large would be treated as absconded offenders. All the Jewish terrorists are still free.

Manning Confers With AFU Group

Question of a provincial fact-finding board to determine relationship of farm costs and farm income were among matters taken up Friday afternoon at a meeting between Premier Ernest Manning and the six-member executive of the Alberta Farmers' Union, Carl J. Elite Cleaners Open New Jasper Ave. Plant

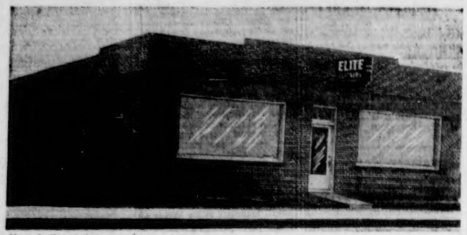
Event Marks Firm's Tenth Anniversary



Above is the spacious new dry cleaning plant of Elite Cleaners at 11515 Jasper ave. It is equipped to handle all dry cleaning requirements.

Celebrating over ten years of operation under the present management, Elite Cleaners announce today the opening of their large new building at 11515 Jasper ave.

A feature of the building is its brightness and spaciousness, both important attributes in dry cleaning. There are two large windows at the front, with many windows along both sides of the one-storey building. This assures a maximum of natural light which is supplemented by extensive interior lighting. It is tastefully decorated.

Brick Construction

The building is of brick with a frontage of 40 feet and extending back 80 feet. It is an expression of faith in Edmonton and a desire to grow with the city, states Mrs. Sophea Yachney and Mrs. Annie Pryma, owners. These two Edmonton ladies "made good" in building the business in the difficult depression years and subsequently in serving an enlarged clientele with inadequate facilities during the war.

One of the oldest dry cleaning businesses in the city, the Elite Cleaners was purchased by the present management in 1936.

Long Experience

Mrs. Sophea Yachney, who has been an owner since its purchase, had previous experience with some of the west's largest plants. She states the difficulties of management in the depression were surmounted by hard work and faith and that every endeavor will be made to deserve the confidence of customers in making the new building a valuable addition to Edmonton's dry cleaning industry.

Mrs. Annie Pryma has been owner of a half interest since 1938 and believes the new building will permit the handling of much more business and an improved service to customers. A resident for many years she has firm faith in the city's future and as a good place in which to live.

Lighting Effective

The experience of these ladies in dry cleaning has played a big part in the arrangement of the new plant. Spotting equipment for instance, is placed near the windows where the light will be most effective in these delicate operations. Similarly the reception office at the front is large and spacious for the handling of garments and service to customers.

The plant is equipped to handle any of dry cleaning, state the owners. A skilled staff of spotters and other operators with many years of experience is employed. Every facility has been provided to making working condions of the best for efficient operation and comfort.

The old plant at 11025 Jasper ave. which has housed Elite Cleaners for so many years, will be retained as a reception office, it was stated, but all operations will be performed at the new plant.

Bill Price

Bill Price First Holder Gene Carrigan Trophy

Bill Price, prominent young city athlete is the first holder of the Gene Carrigan Memorial Trophy. Announcement to that effect was made Friday following a meeting attended by sports writers, commentators and members of the group which provided the trophy.

Nine names were submitted for consideration, the award (henceforth on an annual basis) to go to the junior who appears best to combine varied athletic ability with sportsmanship.

The trophy will be presented at a complimentary dinner at the Macdonald hotel Monday, by Ted Kane acting on behalf of the donors.

PRICE, now 19 years old, has just completed his second year in chemical engineering at the University of Alberta, where he has been especially prominent in basketball, being a starry member of the Golden Bears and rated by Prof. Maury Van Vliet as one of the top players in Western Canada.

PLAYING WITH the Canadians, Bill led the City Junior Baseball League in batting two years ago and last season he was member of the Eskimos, finishing in the runner-up spot to Bert Culver. Price is a second baseman and his year with the Canadians was his first in baseball.

The recipient of the trophy also is a keen hunter, preferring big game, but seldom passing up an opportunity for a good duck shoot.

Zale Defeats Saskatoon Boxer

YOUNGSTOWN, O., May 10—(CP)—Withstanding a withering barrage of rights and lefts for five rounds courageous Cliff Beckett of Saskatoon and Sudbury, Ont., went down to defeat here Thursday night under a powerful pounding by world middleweight boxing champion Tony Zale.

The champ, weighing 161 pounds, was awarded the scheduled 10-round non-title bout by a technical knockout in the sixth round before 2,400 fans at Youngstown Arena. Beckett weighed 164.

A severe cut over Beckett's eyelid resulted in the TKO. Dr. John Renner, Youngstown boxing commission's physician, refused to permit him to come out for the sixth round.

Six times the Canadian hit the canvas in the one-sided match before a halt was called.

Allan Heads Sicks' Centre Lawn Bowlers

Colin Allan was elected president of the lawn bowling division of Sicks' Recreation Centre at a well attended organization meeting held in the Corona Hotel Friday night.

Fred Purkis was named vice-president and Harry Standley secretary. President Allan, J. Singleton and Frank Taylor constitute the first draw committee of Edmonton's new bowling club.

OPENING DAY was set for Saturday, May 24 with play to commence at 1.30, but the greens will be open to members for practice games at 7.30 the previous evening.

There are no restrictions as to membership, other than that players must first become members in the ordinary way. Players from all other clubs in the city are cordially invited to take part in the opening day's games.

THE COMMENCEMENT of activities at Sick's Recreation Centre means an additional 10 greens will be added to lawn bowling facilities in Edmonton and Fred Rigby, recently appointed greens-keeper, already has them in execellent shape.

Amateur Boxers Finish Tonight

PORT ARTHUR, May 10—(CP)—Hard-hitting Keith Christiansen of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., provided the major upset here last night as the Canadian amateur boxing championships all but concluded bouts leading up to class finals.

Christiansen toppled highly-favored Jimmy Miller of Kenora, Ont., in the heavyweight division by a technical knockout. Miller, who once boxed British heavyweight Bruce Woodcock, had been expected to go all the way through to the title.

THE TOURNEY, which will conclude tonight, saw Billy Powell, 1946 Canadian welterweight champion, slug his way into the final of that division in the opening bout of the evening. The Port Arthur boy scored a technical knockout over Billy Brenner of Vancouver.

In a lightweight contest, Jerry Shears of Montreal scored a technical knockout over Francis Wright of Lethbridge, Alta., while a close verdict gave Henry King George of Hamilton a win over Montreal's Jim Davies and a berth in the light-heavyweight finals.

AFTER DROPPING three bouts Thursday night, Winnipeg finally came through with a win when Frankie White scored a decision over Maurice Duciaume of Timmins, Ont., in the featherweight opener.

Frank Almond of Vancouver advanced to the bantamweight finals against Armand Savoie of Montreal, defeating Glenn Ray of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. in a closely-contested battle. Savoie knocked out George Kroiter of Regina in the second round of their semi-final.

Bid For Games

DETROIT, May 9.—(AP)—Michigan's Upper Peninsula will put in a bid for the winter portion of the 1952 Olympic Games when Detroit submits an invitation for the competition June 14. Detroit's bid will be made at the same time at a meeting of the Olympic committee at Stockholm, Sweden.

ASSAULT BOOSTS BANK ROLL

BALTIMORE, May 10—(AP)—King Ranch's Assault, the 1946 triple crown winner, breezed to a half-length victory Friday in the 43rd running of the Dixie Handicap at Pimlico, and moved into third place in the all-time turf money-winning list.

A crowd of 19,960 persons had no trouble warming up to the chestnut Comet, which was coupled with a stablemate, Flash Burn, as an entry from Robert J. Kleberg's Texas Ranch.

THE COMBINATION of Assault and Jockey Eddie Arcaro was backed down to two-to-five in the 1 3-sixteenth miles affair, and there never was much doubt about the final outcome.

Arcaro just let him run, as Assault first caught the early leader, Mrs. Walter M. Jefford's Natchez, then sailed down the homestretch to pick up the Argentine-bred Rico Monte for his half-length decision.

R. N. Ryan's Talon, another Argentine horse which was coupled in the wagering as the entry of trainer Horatio A. Luro, was third, another three lengths behind.

Never defeated on the Pimlico oval in three straight—the others were the Preakness and Pimlico special last year—Assault collected $24,700 Friday for his one minute, 57 4-fifths seconds run. This shot his money-winning total to $498,470, surpassing Calumet Farm's Armed, the 1946 Dixie winner. Armed has won $482,775.

It also placed Assault within striking distance of Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Stymie, the second high money winner, with $518,285.

Benny Geary Crowned King Of Western Welterweights

Deschambeault Drops Decision To Edmontonian

By BERT GREER
Edmonton Bulletin Sports Writer

Benny Geary, popular Edmonton boxer, danced, jabbed and punched his way to the Western Canada welterweight championship here last night.

Benny, who was given a great ovation by the close to 1,500 fans when he stepped into the ring at the Alberta Avenue Sports Pavilion, and a greater one when he was declared the winner over Tommy Deschambeault of Calgary by a unanimous decision, piled up an early lead and then fought a masterful battle the rest of the way.

NOT ONLY DID Geary give a fine display of the boxing art, but he also demonstrated that he packed a lot of power in both hands and that he could take a solid blow to the body and jaw and still come back swinging.

A sharp blow to Tommy's left eye that opened a cut just over the eyelid, paved the way to Benny's victory. The blow landed early in the second round and Deschambeault appeared to be having difficulty seeing out of it as the blood trickled into his eye. While Tommy was blinking Benny looped a stunning right to the chin and Deschambeault fell like a chunk of lead. He stayed on the canvas for a count of nine.

IT WASN'T ENTIRELY a Geary show, however. The rugged Calgarian rocked his rival with terrific rights and left hooks on many occasions and Benny's knees sagged once when he absorbed a terrific right cross to the jaw. There was a lot of in-fighting as Tommy, realizing he was out-boxed, waded in with both fists flying and then either covered up or clinched.

Geary piled up a big lead in the first four rounds with razor-edged punching and Tommy was charged with a couple of low punches in the fifth and sixth. The Calgary lad had a slight edge in the seventh and eight and the last two were comparatively even as both lads had practically run out of steam.

A SPORTING gesture on Geary's part might have turned into a piece of master strategy. They both slipped to the canvas along about the seventh round and Geary sprang to his feet and helped Tommy up.

The kind act apparently had a psychological effect on Deschambeault, for he thanked Benny and his attitude toward his rival seemed considerably mellowed.

IT WAS A card packed with action and thrills.

Roy Wouters took exactly 2.59 minutes of the first round to drop Hec Fillion for a count of nine with a right to the chin and left to the solar plexus and then leave him dangling helplessly over the first rung of the ropes for the full count with a right to the mid-riff, in the semi-windup. It was a slugfest from the start, with Fillion also getting in some telling blows.

Louis Demers had too much power for Bob Henkinson. He dropped his opponent for nine counts in the second and when Bob hit the canvas at 1.9 of the third for another nine count Referee Jimmy Cowan awarded Louis the bout by a technical kayo.

BILLY SMITH was the surprise packet of the evening. He floored the up-and-coming Dusty Rhodes no less than four times to win a unanimous decision. Tossing well-timed punches and displaying smart footwork, Billy sent Dusty to the floor for a seven count in the first, a five in the second, another five in the third and seven in the sixth.

Rhodes was a game opponent, however, and staged a comeback in the fourth and fifth.

Ralph Goddard emerged with a unanimous decision over Jackie Sorenson in an action-packed curtain-raiser.

South Siders Hold Special Meeting

Forty were present at South Side Athletic Association's special meeting held in the Acacia Hall Friday night. Jimmy Dean acted as chairman.

The members decided by unanimous vote to continue the association's activities and named a nominating committee which will report with a suggested slate of officers at the next meeting in three weeks.

Andy Clovechuk Signs To Play Baseball Here

Another recruit for senior baseball in Edmonton will arrive in the city Monday. Andy Clovechuk, prominent in both hockey and baseball circles at Vancouver the past two years, has been signed and is reporting for duty at the beginning of the week.

Clovechuk plays shortstop and is reputed to be a strong hitter and with considerable senior ball experience to draw from.

A pitcher, whose name has not yet been released, is due to arrive tomorrow. It is understood, though, that he possesses plenty of color in addition to pitching acumen and that he already has served at Renfrew Park.

CLOVECHUK'S coming to Edmonton lends further color to the rumor that Andy might be in a Flyer uniform next winter. Andy earlier had been reported signed and sealed to play with one of the Calgary ball clubs this year.

He won the scoring championship of the Pacific Coast Hockey League for the 1945-46 season, finishing with 103 points, 56 of them goals, and he played on a Vancouver Canuck line with Alex Pringle and Elmer Kreller, both now with the Flyers. Andy collected around 60 points last season.

Lightweight King Wins Close Match

BOSTON, May 10 (AP)—Superior in-fighting enabled Ike Williams of Trenton, N.J., the N.B.A.'s lightweight champion, to pull from behind for an unanimous but close decision over Ralph Zanelli, the durable Providence, R. I. veteran, in their 10 round non-title boxing bout last night at the Boston Garden.

Williams weighed 139½ and Zanelli scored 141¼.

In the secondary 10-rounder, Patsy Brandino, 141, of Hamilton, Ont., squared his accounts with another Canadian, Gus (Pell) Mell, 144, of Montreal, by gaining a split decision after a bruising struggle. Mell gained a similar eyelash verdict here two weeks ago.

Leafs Starting Fastball Monday

The Maple Leaf Athletic Club's pee-wee fastball loop opens its eighth season Monday, May 12, when the four team league stages a double-header at H. A. Gray School grounds. Bud McEwan's Cardinals oppose Roger Frost's Stampeders at 6.30 in the first game. Doug Hamilton's Tigers and Don Scott's Indians clash in the second game.

Double-headers are called for each Monday and Friday nights and the teams will play a 24 game schedule. Batting records are to be kept and an award will go to the league's leading hitter. Official league umpires are Gordon Mitchell and Paul Lange.

THE CLUB has enlarged its softball activities to include a midget league composed of four teams, the Goblins, Hornets, Stampeders and Bombers. In the opening games of a 24-game schedule Goblins meet the Stampeders at Norwood and the Hornets oppose the Bombers at H.A. Gray on Tuesday, May 13. Both games start at 7 p.m.

Would Call Off Olympic Games

OTTAWA, May 10 (CP)—T. L. Church (PC-Toronto Broadview) said Friday in the Commons that the 1948 Olympic Games should be called off because such games "Cause more disunion than union."

He said the games should at least be postponed until 1950 because of the conditions in Britain and Europe. He noted that the government was going to contribute $17,500 toward the Olympics.

The government, he said, should not pay the money. Anyone who wanted to go to the Olympics should pay their own way. He did not know how Britain would find food or shelter for those who wanted to attend the Olympics.

Ships were not available to bring British immigrants to Canada, but they were to be available to carry Olympic competitors.

Threatening Letters Sent To Robinson

NEW YORK, May 10—(AP)—Jackie Robinson, controversial figure as the first Negro baseball player in major league history, was disclosed Friday night to have received threatening letters in the mails.

It was the first time in 24 hours that the Brooklyn Dodger first sacker had been named in anti-racial diamond developments. Last night Ford Frick, president of the National League, told of a report that St. Louis Cardinals had planned to strike in protest over Jackie's presence in the Brooklyn lineup.

AT PHILADELPHIA Friday night Branch Rickey, Dodger president, told of the threatening letters.

"Robinson turned them over to me," he said. "He did not and would not show them to police headquarters. However, two of them were so vicious that I felt they should be investigated."

Rickey added that investigation revealed the letters to be of an anonymous nature.

A NEW YORK police source said one letter had been investigated, and that it had a "phoney" name and address. The source added that no further probe was contemplated.

Concerning the purported strike threat, President Frick yesterday declined to elaborate on his earlier comments which first appeared in a copyrighted story in the New York Herald-Tribune.

Frick said he considered the incident closed, following denials by owner Sam Breadon and Manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals that a strike was ever contemplated.

Pheasant Outlook Is Encouraging

CALGARY, May 10 (CP)—The outlook for large numbers of pheasants in the Eastern Irrigation District when the hunting season opens next fall, is encouraging, says George Watt, president of the Alberta Fish and Game Association.

Mr. Watt recently returned from a survey of the area around Brooks and has received reports of game bird conditions from other areas in the EID.

To date reports from all these areas show promise of a season as good as last and in some cases conditions hold out hopes for better hunting next fall. As a conservation move however, the pheasant season next fall will be shorter than last year.

Ball Commissioner

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—The National Baseball Congress last night announced appointment of Charles Good, Sr., retired Toronto sports writer, as its high commissioner for 1947. He succeeds his long time friend and contemporary, the late J. P. Fitzgerald, former sports writer of the Toronto Telegram. Mr. Good will rule on Congress problems in connection with its tournaments leading to the sand-lot baseball championship of Canada.

Dodgers Drop to 3rd Place

Chisox Whip Detroit To Take League Lead

NEW YORK, May 10 —(AP)— Chicago White Sox have scored three runs in their last 34 innings, but they're leading the American League. Reminiscent of the "Hitless Wonders" of another era, the Sox squeaked through a 1-0 victory Sunday, dropped two shutout decisions, and came back yesterday to edge Detroit Tigers 2-1 to take a one-game lead over the losers. It was the 11th Sox win in 18 games.

Orval Grove's seven-hit pitching and Murrell Jones' eighth-inning single scoring Don Kolloway with the winning run were the game's highlights.

A SIX-INNING relief stint by Rookie Clint Hartung yielded only two hits and no runs, but New York Giants dropped a 6-2 decision to Boston Braves who wreaked their mayhem earlier at the expense of Bill Voiselle and Mike Budnick.

Hartung, the much-publicized all-rounder, showed a neat curve and effective fast ball and gave up only three walks. Johnny Mize's ninth homer of the season for the Giants also went for a lost cause.

Johnny Vandermeer, once noted for his two consecutive no-hitters and impressive strikeout record, had a dismal first start of the season as he yielded five hits and four runs in the sixth inning in Cincinnati Reds' 5-1 loss to Chicago Cubs.

BROOKLYN DODGERS dropped all the way from first to third place when Philadelphia Phillies nipped them 6-5 in 11 innings in a night game. Emil Verban's double drove home Andy Seminick with the winning marker.

In another 11-inning clash Joe Gordon gave Bobby Feller a 4-3 victory over St. Louis Browns when he singled Manager Lou Boudreau across with the winning run. The loss to Cleveland was Browns' seventh straight. Feller allowed but four hits.

Stampeders Play Royals Tonight

TORONTO, May 10 -(CP)—The question of whether Calgary Stampeders can come up with a second straight win and force a seventh and deciding game in their Allan Cup final against Montreal Royals will be answered tonight in the sixthe clash of the country's two dominional champions for the Canadian senior hockey crown.

For the first time since they hooked up with the Royals in the defence of their title they won out west last year, the Stampeders in the fifth game Wednesday night showed the form that won them the western championship as they registered a sparkling 1-0 win to cut the Royals' lead in games to 3-2 and prolong the series for at least another tilt.

Now 66 Games

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 10-(AP)-The United States Hockey League will play a 66-game schedule next season, six more than during 1946-47, directors decided here Friday at their annual meeting.

Cardinals' Tough Luck Continues

NEW YORK, May 10 (AP)—The world series champion St. Louis Cardinals, already beset with multiple troubles, suffered a further serious blow Friday when their great first baseman, Stan Musial, was found to have acute appendicitis and was ordered to undergo an immediate operation.

Musial, left behind when the rest of the Cards entrained for Pittsburgh, booked passage on a plane leaving here late yesterday for St. Louis, hopeful that an additional examination by the club's physician, Dr. Bob Hyland, would gain him permission to postpone the surgery.

"I'd hate to leave the line-up right now," Musial lamented. "It isn't hurting much today."

DR. C.R. PALMER, house physician at the hotel where the Cardinals stop, recommended an operation at once and yielded only reluctantly to Musial's plea that he be permitted to fly to St. Louis.

Musial, voted the most valuable player in the National League last year, became ill Thursday and did not participate in Thursday night's game between the Cards and Brooklyn Dodgers.

An operation, which appeared inevitable, would lose Musial to the cellar-dwelling Cardinals for perhaps a month.

S. Side Fastball Opener On May 19

Officials of the South Edmonton Intermediate Fastball League completed plans last night for the 1947 season. "Play ball" will sound for the six teams in the league on May 19 at the South Side Athletic Grounds.

The league will be comprised of South Side Post office, W.W. Arcade, Prudham's Building Supplies, Eagle's Lodge, South Side Business Men, and Canadian Vocational Training School. Doubleheaders will be played twice a week.

BILL RUNGE, well-known hockey referee, is president of the league and he will be assisted on the executive by Fred McGowan, secretary-treasurer, and Max Bryant, vice-president.

A complete schedule for the league play will be released next week.

Australian Cops British Tourney

SOUTHPORT, England, May 10-(AP)-Norman Von Nida, who plays golf in his native Australia during the Southern Hemisphere summer and then tours the English summer circuit, won the Dunlop-Southport professional golf tournament today with a 285.

It was his second successive triumph—following an inauspicious 10th-place finish in the season opener—and the (350) ($1,400 first prize added to the (800 he got a fortnight ago in the Brandlochryn tournament put him far in front as leading money winner here.

Charlie Ward shot consistently on the 6,500-yard Hesketh course to take second money with a 72-73-72 [illegible]

Major and Minor Notes

By John Oliver

Already making plans for next season, the Women's Musical Club is negotiating with Betty McCaskill, popular and talented city singer, to give the opening, "guest" recital of the regular 1947-48 season, according to Mrs. F. W. Mills, club president. The proposal is that the concert would be given on Friday, Oct. 3, at McDougall United church. While regular meetings of the club are held at the Masonic Temple, this particular event would be in McDougall church, in order to accommodate all those who undoubtedly, would want to hear Miss McCaskill. The young singing star has returned home to spend the summer after a long season of study in Toronto, which was climaxed by winning third place, and a $250 scholarship, in the fourth annual "Singing Stars of Tomorrow" contest. She will spend her vacation resting, and doing sufficient practicing to keep from getting "rusty."

JOHN OLIVER

While negotiations have not yet reached fruition, it is expected they will within the next few days. It is understood that if agreement is reached, the contract will preclude any singing engagements here prior to the concert on Oct. 3. with the possible exception of one Rotary Club luncheon. This concession would be in tribute to the Rotarians who, in past years, have assisted to no small extent, in enabling Miss McCaskill to continue her studies.

The club canvassed the possibility of sponsoring a concert at the end of this month, or early in June. However, after some consideration it was decided to leave it over until October. There were several points involved. In the first place, Miss McCaskill needed the rest. Then, the concert, of necessity, would have to come at the end of an already long and full season, when even ardent music lovers are thinking of being outside as much as possible in the short summer. In addition, it was felt that Miss McCaskill would be a splendid choice for the opening recital of the new club season, and would get it away to a good start. Weighing all the considerations, it was decided to settle on an October concert. So unless you are a Rotarian, you will have to wait until Friday Oct. 3 to hear Miss McCaskill.

It has been suggested that an orchestra, drawn from members of the Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra, might play her accompaniments. If this was not possible for the entire program, an effort would be made to have orchestral accompaniment for her operatic arias. However, this phase of the situation, has not been fully discussed, and will be considered as time goes by.

Subscribers to the Celebrity Concert Series sponsored by the Women's Musical Club, have shown continued faith in the series by renewing their seats for next year. As a result, practically every reserved seat already has been taken and Mrs. Ernest Meaden, manager of the series has closed up her office at Heintzman and Company's store for the summer. She said that the general reaction to the series and the artists comprising it, had been favorable, and indications were that it would be one of the most popular series of all.

Berneice McBeth, popular city soprano, has returned here after a three-month visit to California. She spent most of the time in and around Los Angeles and in Hollywood, staying with relatives, studying, and singing in churches, and elsewhere. She entered the Atwater-Kent radio competition, which has given many well known stars to the public. She was one of 24 contestants to enter the semi-finals. From the 24, eight finalists were selected. While Miss McBeth went no farther than the semi-finals, she was enthusiastic over the contest and the manner in which it was handled.

She met several leading musicians of both Hollywood and Los Angeles and generally enjoyed herself between studies. At the same time, like a great many others, she has found that there is no place like home, and she is glad to be back.

Harold C. Sagar, a member of the cello section, was elected president of the Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra, at its annual meeting held early this week at the Public Library. He succeeds E. B. Swindlehurst. Other officers elected were vice-president and business manager, H. L. Wyman; second vice-president, Dr. N. Onischuck; secretary Alexander H. Adams; treasurer George Johnson; librarian Jennie Salamandick; assistant librarian Elizabeth Salamandick; Members of the executive are: Abe Fratkin, Ranald Shean, Constance Gagner, Cecil Waggott, Iolo Jones, Frank McCleavy and Mrs. Swindlehurst. Mr. Fratkin was re-appointed conductor.

Reports of various officers showed that a successful year had been held and that prospects were bright for the future. It was decided to hold the annual banquet and dance on Wednesday, May 21.

If suitable arrangements can be made, it is expected that Betty Hagen, violinist, will be the soloist at the opening concert, and will play the Mendelssohn Concerto in E Minor. She has been studying in Calgary during the last season and earlier this week took top violin honors in the Calgary district music festival.

The Lyric Music and Dramatic Club concluded its season's activities with a banquet at the Corona hotel early this week. About 85 guests attended. Mrs. R. W. McIntyre, the president, was in the chair. During the evening speeches were made by Mrs. McIntyre; Mrs. Peter McSporran, the musical director; R. W. McIntyre, business manager; Mrs. A. Howe-Carter, accompanist; R. Mosher and J. Chettelborough. The club presented Mrs. McIntyre with a set of gold earrings and pin, set with topaze. Mrs. McSporran made the presentation. In turn, Mrs. McIntyre presented Mrs. McSporran and Mrs. Howe-Carter with cheques. Mrs. A. Barron was convener. The club has dispersed for the summer and will resume activities in September.

Berneice McBeth has returned home after a three-month visit to California. While in the south she was one of 24 contestants in the Atwater-Kent radio contest to enter the semi-finals

Betty McCaskill, of this city, who has returned from a season of vocal studies at Toronto. She won third place in the fourth annual Singing Stars of Toronto contest, and a $250 scholarship which went with it. It is expected she will spend the summer here, and will give a concert before returning east to continue her studies.

Burned Alive

AMRITSAR, India, May 10. —(Reuters)—An armed band today attacked and set fire to 12 persons, killing seven of them, in this holy city of the Sikhs. The attackers first injured their victims, sprinkled gasoline over them and then fired them with a torch.

William E. McKenney

It was rather surprising to find that none of the pairs in a very strong duplicate game arrived at a six diamond contract on today's hand. A careless slip on my part got my partner and me into seven diamonds.

When South, my partner, opened the bidding with one club, I pondered how to bid the hand in order to show six diamonds and five hearts. I decided that the correct bid would be one diamond. Then if South bid a spade, which I fully expected since my hand was void of spades, I could bid either two or three hearts.

However, over one club I said two diamonds. The two-over-one jump is a slam try and shows two controls. With the bidding shown in the box, South can read that North has six diamonds and five hearts. When North does not jump at the first opportunity, South knows that he lacks the two controls.

When I bid two diamonds, South bid two spades. I bid three hearts, South three no trump, and I bid four hearts. Now South thought that my two controls had to be the ace of hearts and a void in clubs because of his own club bidding. That would mean that we should make seven.

If North and South were playing Blackwood, South could bid four no trump over four hearts, asking partner for an ace. When North responded with five clubs denying an ace, the hand could be signed off at six diamonds.

In the play there is no way to squeeze East even though he does not open the ace of hearts. With the king of spades opening, declarer takes two rounds of trumps and then he should lead the jack of hearts himself. If East ducks, seven can be made.

Fly Strawberries From California

Shipping history was made here Thursday and the result pleasantly surprised Edmonton shoppers, when luscious, fresh strawberries greeted winter weary Alberta eyes in downtown grocery stores.

Flown from Hollister, Calif., by the Consolidated Fruit Co., the delectable berries reached Edmonton warehouses of the National and Scott Fruit Companies early Thursday morning to go on sale immediately.

588 cases, or three and one-half tons by weight, of the crimson berries were in the shipment.

"It's the first time in the history of the fruit industry that this has been done," N. L. Chapman, manager of the Scott Fruit Company said.

Home Building Pace Quickens

Edmonton's home building program swept past the 370-mark Thursday as a total of 81 permits for houses were issued during the first seven days of May. Value of the permits was $428,800.

A DEFINITE upswing in the number of permits being taken out for dwellings seems apparent as clerks in the city architect's office cope with residents lined up three deep seeking information on building regulations or making application for permits.

M. Iverson, city contractor, took out eight permits, each for $6,000, covering houses to be erected in the 108 block on 111 and 112 streets. Ten permits for dwellings, each costing $6,000, were taken out by Dicconson and Co., city contracting firm. These will be erected in the 104 block on 136 street.

Work has started on the erecting of 250 houses being constructed this year by Wartime Housing Ltd., on sites in Bonnie Doon and the Ritchie district. No permit has been taken out as yet on this project.

A PERMIT for $28,894 was issued to McDougall and Secord Ltd., covering the erection of four one-storey store buildings, on the north east corner of Jasper avenue and 107 street. The buildings will be of brick and concrete construction.

Dr. A. Rattray took out a permit for $15,000 covering the erection of an animal hospital at 11051 97 street, and Dominion Envelope and Cartons Ltd., one for $25,000 for an addition to its plant at 8124 113 avenue.

A permit for $9,500 was issued to Messrs. Hanson and VanKleek for a brick, frame and stucco dry cleaning plant at 12318 Jasper avenue, and Mrs. S. Polson and Burton Margolus took out a permit for $23,000 for the erection of a 30-room, two-storey apartment building at 10052-54 117 street.

Alberta Slim

The other day while moping about the house waiting for a radio station to phone and offer me a dollar I happened to hear Alberta Slim warbling his new song "Smoky Smith V.C." In frankly nasal tones Slim was singing:

Smoky, the pride of Westminster,
Once rambled on freights near and far,
As a lot of our boys did in hard times,
Before they went to war.
We talk of our majors and gen-'rals,
Our corporals, sergeants and all,
But Canada's pride of all heroes,
Our Smoky Smith answered the call . . . .

Several other verses and a spate of yodelling convinced me that here was a singer after my own heart: direct, simple, slightly mournful, full of sentiment and social significance.

Alberta Slim got his western background on a ranch at Lloydmister, Sask., where his folks settled in 1920 and went very rapidly broke as was the custom in that region. In the rough times be-

Voices Appeal For Greek Relief

An appeal to members on behalf of the Relief to Greece Fund, was made by W. A. MacDonald, publisher of The Edmonton Journal at a Rotary Club luncheon at the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

He said that while the United Nations were debating the situation in Greece, 350,000 orphans of that country were starving.

Objective of the fund, he said, is $1,500,000 for Canada. Alberta's portion amounts to $40,000.

W. R. "Wop" May introduced E. R. R. Field, superintendent, western region, Canadian Pacific Air Lines, as a new member

Lloyd Cooper, pianist, provided musical entertainment.

Citizens Urged Tidy Up Property

Request to all citizens to make a special effort to rid their properties of rubbish and debris accumulated during the winter season, and to do everything possible to beautify their places by planting gardens, flowers, trees and shrubs, was made Friday by Acting Mayor J. R. Munro.

The appeal was issued in connection with the civic spring beautification and clean up campaign, which gets under way Monday, May 12 and will continue through until May 23.

Mr. Munro asked all residents to "make and keep our city neat and clean, and beautify our property to match our beautiful natural setting."

He stated that dates of city collections of rubbish and debris to be made in the various districts would be announced later.

Snappy Performance Draws Large Crowd

Schoolboys Band in Popular Concert

Westglen High School Auditorium was filled to capacity on Friday night when the Edmonton Schoolboys Band appeared in concert under the baton of T. V. Newlove. The concert will be repeated tonight. There were numbers by the junior band, the senior band and by the massed bands. In addition, the majorettes gave displays of baton twirling. W.O. Murray, assistant bandmaster, aided Mr. Newlove in directing the concert.

A varied program of classical, semi-classical, march, descriptive pieces, a symphonic swing selection, and baton twirling by the majorettes was presented.

Sharpshooters, a march; Sons of Erin, an overture, and Hunting Scene, a descriptive number, were followed by single baton whirling by three majorettes, Alberta McLean, Dora Young, and Annette Patterson.

THE McCAULEY SCHOOL chorus, under the direction of Miss A. L. Wight and accompanied by F. Bendle, sang two numbers.

A medly of southern numbers followed the chorus and the band concluded with a march, National Emblem.

During the senior band performance, under the direction of Mr Newlove, two numbers, Stormy Weather, a descriptive fantasy, and At the Gremlin Ball, a symphonic

Newspaper Woman Is Dead In City

Miss Irene Moore, prominent western Canada newspaper woman who retired from the staff of the Regina Leader-Post a year ago died here last night. She was 71 years old and had been ill for some months.

A native of Clarksburg, Ont., Miss Moore came west more than 40 years ago to teach school in Stirling, in Southern Alberta, and in 1905 she rejoined her family at Cutknife, Sask., where they had gone to homestead. She went to the Leader-Post in 1915 after working on the former Saskatoon Phoenix and for 31 years was women's editor.

In 1920 Miss Moore won the $500 prize offered by the Quebec historical branch with her book "Valiant La Verendrye" and more recently was co-author of a book designed to help British war brides coming to Canada.

Funeral service will be held here Monday.

Reserve Oil Lands Peace River Area

Oil and natural gas reservations covering nearly 40,000 acres in the northern part of Alberta were issued during the last week, according to figures released Friday by the department of lands and mines. The entire area was reserved for R. W. Burns, in the north-western corner of the province at the headwaters of Hamelin Creek, which flows into the Peace River.

Canadian Tourist Club

New Tourist Group To Open Drive Here

The Canadian Tourist Club, first of its kind in Canada, sponsored by the North West Commercial Travellers' Association, has the approval of Deputy Mayor J. R. Munro, and W. A. Cooper, representative of the movement in Edmonton, has been asked to address the city council Monday Evening.

THE CLUB HAS no intention of entering into competition with already established tourist bureaus, railway and other travel agencies, nor does it desire any publicity for tourist work. "We will do the work, and some other organization can take the credit," said Mr. Cooper.

"Our aim," he said, "is to assist all established tourist bureaus in publicizing the value of the tourist trade, so that the general public in Edmonton and northern Alberta will become tourist-conscious."

Plans of the club include the setting up of committees that will make regular reports of highway conditions, accommodation at hotels, tourist camps and reports on desireable eating places.

It is planned to assist the tourist wherever he may be found, particularly on the trains and highways, and to supply him with all information he requires as to conditions of roads, stopping places, resorts and all places of special interest in his path," added Mr. Cooper.

Assistance in the establishment of new business enterprises in co-operation with government or other agencies, also is included in the plan.

"The tourist industry is big business," said Mr. Cooper. "It is our aim to promote it to the best of our ability by giving the best possible service to the tourist. No one man can do it all. "It will take every citizen to make the tourist industry successful."

One of the plans discussed with Deputy Mayor Munro was a "perimeter drive". The drive, if it receives aproval of city council, will touch the most attractive spots in Edmonton, and will be marked with arrows at noticeable intervals. Booklets with markers would be left at all hotels, tourist camps, service stations and department stores.

"THERE ARE A number of travel agencies that could plan a better drive than we can," said Mr. Cooper. "We would like all possible co-operation in planning the route."

Plans have been laid to hold a dinner meeting Friday, May 16, in the Macdonald hotel, at which time it is planned to appoint a permanent executive. It is hoped that prominent citizens and business men interested in the tourist industry will attend.

The yield from Hevea rubber trees has more than quadrupled in the 67 years since they were first brought under cultivation.

MONDAY—Kiwanis

TUESDAY — Gyro, Cosmopolitan, Y's Men's.

THURSDAY — Rotary, Optimists, Lions.

FRIDAY — Kinsmen.

Robson Black, president of the Canadian Forestry Association, will speak on the "New Kingdom of Forestry," at a Kiwanis club luncheon to be held at the Macdonald hotel Monday.

A REGULAR business meeting will be the agenda for the Gyro club luncheon at the Macdonald Tuesday.

John Ducey's film, "World Series Baseball, 1946," will be shown at a luncheon of the Cosmopolitan club in the Corona hotel Tuesday.

"Canadian Armor in the Northwestern Campaign in Europe" will be the subject of a talk by J. W. Proctor, district administrator for the Department of Veterans Affairs, at a Rotary club luncheon in the Macdonald Thursday.

A musical program arranged by Ray Le Roy Olsen will feature Lois Archer as pianist, Betty McCann, vocalist, and a cellist, at luncheon of the Optimists club in the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

THE BASEBALL film shown by Mr. Ducey, along with a regular business meeting, will comprise the agenda for the Lions club luncheon at the Macdonald hotel Thursday.

Marking International Good-Will Week, A. S. R. Tweedie, assistant director of extension, University of Alberta, will speak on "Understanding, Tolerance, and Co-operation in International Fields", at a meeting of the Kinsmen club at the Macdonald Friday. Mr. Tweedie is recognized as an authority on international affairs. Business end of the meeting will call for nominations for officers, for an election to be held May 30.

Say Horse Show To Be Best Yet

Edmonton spring horse show, conducted by the Edmonton Exhibition Association, should be the best in the long history of the association. Horses from British Columbia, Alberta, and the other prairie provinces will be in the ring during the four days of the show, which opens on Wednesday, May 14.

The show is sponsored by the Edmonton Kinsmen Club, and its members have prepared an attractive souvenier program which gives valuable information concerning the different breeds of horses, their origin and uses, and other information concerning the show.

At least 12 horses are being shipped to Edmonton from British Columbia centres for the show. The largest contingent ever to visit here from Calgary and other southern horse breeding centres will be in attendance for the junmping competition sweepstakes which will be run off each evening of the show, culminating in the grand championship in these classes on the closing night.

AN INNOVATION this year will be the presentation of substantial cash prizes to holders of lucky admission tickets, and the presentation of bicycles to lucky children at the afternoon performance Saturday. Further announcement on these prizes will be made early next week.

In addition to sensational jumping features at the show, some of the finest thoroughbred horses in Alberta and British Columbia will be on view in the different events.

Entries in the glamour classes, which proved so attractive last year, are very heavy, and the keenest competition will be given Edmonton entries by district exhibitors.

ALWAYS A POPULAR feature of the spring show are classes for children, and this year will be no exception as very large entries have been received in all classes.

Then there are the gymkhana evants, such as musical chairs, Gretna Green race, and other novelties, including a fancy dress parade, which should delight all who visit the show.

LURE OF WHEELS

OTTAWA — (CP)—Old-hands at amy headquarters here say love of mechanical power and things mechanized has replaced lure of the uniform as major drawing card for recruits.

Our Town

fore the war Slim hit the circuit with his guitar and horse, playing with the small travelling shows.

Like all cowboy singers he yearned for the free use of a microphone. The turning point in his career was getting on a Regina radio station and since then he has been doing nicely, married the cutest gal these old prairie-wise eyes have seen in many a day of riding the trail, and has grossed as high as $2,100 a day, or more than enough to keep "Kitten" in the best of hay.

Discounts Theory

Alberta Slim discounts the cynical theory that the melancholy range songs were originated to keep herds of cattle quiet and thinks of it as a more or less true art form. A good many of the newer western tunes are documentary such as "Atomic Power," which has one verse that goes like this (to be sung with a slight wail):

"Oh this world is at a tremble with its strength and mighty power.
"They're sending up to heaven to get the Brimstone fire.
"Take warning my dear brother,
be careful how you plan.
"We're working with a power of God's un-holy hand."

Will Not Follow Spraying Method

The provincial government does not plan the use of helicopters for the dust-spraying of weeds, as a recent announcement from Saskatchewan indicates that the government of the neighboring province is doing, but the experiment will be watched with a great deal of interest.

The firm employed by the Saskatchewan government had tried to interest Alberta authorities, H. J. Mather supervisor of soils and weeds revealed Friday. Great interest was expressed in the project, but no definite steps were taken to employ the machines.

The province, however, is conducting experiments with spray tanks and Buffalo turbines, capable, Mr. Mather aid of spraying a wide area. The turbine develops a muzzle velocity of 250 miles an hour in broadcasting the liquid spray or dust, which has a lethal effect on all broadleafed plants, but unless used too heavily does not effect cereal grains.

The government hopes this year to be able to cut down the amount of liquid previously considered necessary for an effective spray from 80 gallons to the acre to around 10 gallons to the acre.

1946 Fire Losses Reach New Record

Fire losses in Alberta in 1946 reached a new peak according to the annual report of R. R. Moore, provincial fire commissioner, released Friday by Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary.

Forty-five Albertans perished as a result of fire during the year, compared to 30 in the previous year, and property damage rose from $2,208,199 to $2,544,688 an increase of $366,489. The number of fires rose from 2,138 to 2,308.

Some consolation is drawn by the commissioner from the fact that increases in fire losses in other provinces and in the United States was much more pronounced.

The commissioner's staff had been augmented during the year Most of the fire inspectors are former RCMP officers, well trained in investigation, and are war veterans.

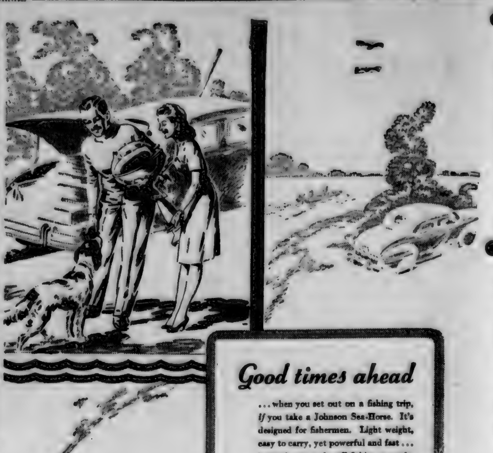
An educational campaign on the elimination of fire hazards will be conducted throughout the province, Mr. Moore said.

In a table attached to his report it was shown that carelessness with cigars or cigarettes is the leading cause of fires, 580 blazes having been traced to this source.

The next greatest cause of fires is called "exposure fires" with 204 cases thus listed. Other fires are said to have started from defective chimneys and stove pipes; hot ashes, electric appliances, lightning and many others.

Ten were of incendiary origin.

India's railway system is the fourth largest in the world, with 41,434 miles of track.



Good times ahead

... when you set out on a fishing trip, if you take a Johnson Sea-Horse. It's designed for fishermen. Light weight, easy to carry, yet powerful and fast ... it speeds you to far-off fishing grounds, then idles at slow trolling speed for hours. It's completely dependable, starts with sure-fire ease, operates like a charm. Vibrationless mountings, full pivot reverse, large capacity fuel tank, underwater silencing ... are only a few of the Johnson features that put more fun in fishing.

Points for Parents

Mrs. A.: "I wish John would speak to my friends as your little Dick does. John's so shy. I can't make him answer when people speak to him, much less shake hands!"

Mother: "Grandma, please don't talk about John's shyness before him. As he grows older and becomes more interested in others, he'll be less self conscious."

Calling attention to a child's shyness, only increases his timidity.

MEATIE MEAL

DR. BALLARD'S
CANADA'S FINEST
DOG & CAT FOODS

Strictly Canadian by Claire Wallace

Being a successful hostess is one of the finer arts in any country.

In Canada, where we entertain so much in the home, a special finesse is required of the hostess.

The fine points are worth knowing, because nothing is so crushing as the feeling that your party has been a failure.

The first thing to consider is whether your guests are well-matched. Do they know each other? Do they like each other? Have they interests in common? It is not necessary, of course, for them to know each other in advance—although you will have a little work cut out for yourself if they didn't. It is essential, however, that they be congenial or that you have a reasonable expectation that they will soon prove to be.

YOU WOULDN'T want it to be like the cocktail party described by Paul Gallico. One of the men was definitely bored by his fellow guests, so when offered another cocktail, he said: "Yes, I'd better have another. I can still hear what they are saying."

The hostess should keep an eye on her guests to see how they are making out as the evening progresses. Now, I don't mean to be that busybody type who never lets anyone settle down to a pleasant conversation. She is a menace, that one. Just as you are beginning to enjoy your new-found friend, your hostess comes keening up to drag you away because "you really must meet Prof. So-and-So who is just fascinating on the subject of growing eggplant." And so on, all around the room, until people who were perfectly satisfied and comfortable where they were, begin to feel they're playing musical chairs.

Of course, if the hostess is really on the beam and can tactfully lead her guests into promising conversational channels, that is different.

A thoughtful hostess never concentrates on any one of her guests, particularly the male members of the party. Take a tip from the lovely English hostess of an officers' convalescent home who said "Be nice to the dull ones, and dull to the nice ones."

IF YOUR PARTY is to be one of those enjoyable conversational evenings in which good talk ranges back and forth, it will be wise to cast an eye to the grouping of the furniture. Will your guests be talking in any one group or in several? Is there room for each group? Are the sidetables conveniently arranged for the ash-trays, and for the refreshments when they arrive.

The intelligent hostess takes cognizance in advance of the special requirements of her guests. She won't overlook Friday and its special needs in refreshments. She should also be on the watch for types like vegetarians, who, as George Bernard Shaw said, "Won't eat anything they can pat."

F.N.Y. of Raymond, Alberta, writes:

"Dear Claire: Our club considers you our authority, so would you please tell us the right way to wear a corsage. Should the flowers be pinned on with the stems up or down? We've had many arguments over this matter, so would you please advise?"

ANSWER: Nature settles the argument for you. The correct way to wear a corsage is as the flowers grow, and that means with the stems down, and the flowers up.

Why Grow Old?

It's hard work to be glamorous, says Josephine Lowman. If that's true there seems to be plenty of evidence Actress Virginia Hunter, above, has been a hard worker.

By Josephine Lowman

The background of glamor is hard work and rigorous self-discipline. Few women realize this when they see a beautifully turned out contemporary! The vision of charm is the only thing we see and we are apt to forget the cleansing and lubricating creams faithfully applied, day after day and year after year, the meticulous care of the hair, the exercises which were not skipped, and the diet without self-indulgence. Yet any woman who retains lovely skin and hair, grace and symmetry of figure, past early youth, has invested heavily in a daily routine.

Or, we might go to Hollywood and follow the daily routine of a movie star. It begins early in the morning when most housewives are still tucked snugly in their beds. We might go to one of the sound stages and watch one little scene over and over and over again, under the hot, glaring lights.

The thing we call glamor in either looks or a career is the result of an awful lot of hard plugging. Should you investigate the history of an exciting career, you would find that few of you would be willing to make the necessary sacrifices or to do the work entailed. It is true that there are moments of mental and spiritual excitement when one is doing creative work. At times it is just plain fun, but most of the time it is plain hard work.

So, when you are indulging in your daily routine, doing those small, boring and seemingly unimportant things which keep you well and beautiful, do not lose sight of the goal you are working toward, because it takes a lot of work to be glamorous.

Our improved pattern — visual with easy-to-see charts and photos, and complete directions — makes needlework easy.

Hospital Group Agrees On Rates

Schedule of rates to be paid to Alberta hospitals under the new expenses for pensioners and their provisions of payment of medical dependents has been agreed to by the Alberta Hospital Association, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health said today.

The same schedule will be used to pay for the services extended to claimants for hospital expenses under the Automobile Accident Indemnity Act, Alberta's "compulsory insurance" legislation.

The rates will not be announced, Dr. Cross said, until agreement has been obtained from each hospital that the proposed payments are satisfactory. A letter outlining the proposed schedule has gone to hospital authorities and the department is now awaiting their reaction.

It is predicted authoratively that the rates will range between $3.65 and $5.10 per patient day and are fixed in regard to the facilities each hospital offers.

City Church Opens Sunday Morning

A new chapter is being written into the history of the old Albany Ave. Methodist Church, later the Westmount United Church. The Church, now on its new location, will be opened in its temporary premises, known as "Westminster Hall", on Sunday when Dr. W. Hollingsworth, B.D. will be the special preacher at morning service at 11 a.m.

On Monday, a social gathering will be held, at which Rev. Angus MacQueen and Rev. E. H. Birdsall will bring greetings, and a new film will be shown, entitled "Western Hands are Sure," depicting the rise and development of the Lamont Hospital.

The church will be known as "Westminster United."

"Westminster Hall" is the old Riverside Church, which was located half-way up the old Low Level Bridge hill. During the winter the building was moved to its new location. It will serve as a place of worship until the new church facing 124th street is ready. The hall will eventually be used as a S.S. and Club Room, and will also be used by other church organizations.

The first unit of the church will be erected soon. Eventually a tower will be erected, and as occasion demands a new section will be added running north. For this year it is hoped to level off the lot, ready for grass and shrubs. This new church will be of stucco design and the main window will face 124th street. The building will be heated by gas, and as soon as possible modern conveniences will be installed.

The Book of Knowledge

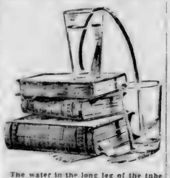
(Department: Things To Make and Do)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

POURING WATER UPWARD, OR DEFYING GRAVITY

For every mystery there is an explanation. And the more we know about the true meaning and the properties of things, the more mysteries we are able to explain; and as soon as we can explain a mystery, it ceases to be one.

Look at your face in a mirror. Why does the mirror show everything in front of it? Because it has the property of reflection. Throw this newspaper into the air and see what happens. It falls downward. Why not upward? Why not sideways? It falls downward because of what we call gravitation.

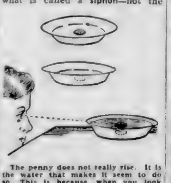


The water in the long leg of the tube is like a heavy weight, and the water in the short one is like a small weight. Unless air gets into the tube of your siphon, the effect is just as if the heavy column of water were tied to the lighter column. The heavy column falls down and sucks up the lighter column.

Let us make a curious experiment. All you need are two tumblers, or cups, a little water, and a short piece of rubber tubing. Put a water-filled tumbler on some books on a table and put an empty tumbler alongside the books, as shown in the drawing, so that it is lower than the one holding water.

Put the end of the rubber tubing into the glass with water. Let it go down in the water. Now put the other end of the tubing into your mouth, and suck the end of the water up. When the tubing is full of water, squeeze the end of the tube which you have in your mouth. Take it between your finger and thumb, holding it tightly, and put this end into or over the empty tumbler, still keeping the other end of the tubing below the surface of the water in the high tumbler. The part of the tubing dangling over the side of the full tumbler should be longer than the part inside the full tumbler.

Now if you take away your fingers, thereby letting the lower end of the tubing open, the water will begin to flow, and will continue to flow until the high tumbler is empty, or util the water in the high tumbler is below the end of the tubing up which the water has been flowing. You have made what is called a siphon—not the kind that holds soda water (for that is not a true siphon), but what men of science and engineers call a siphon.



The penny does not really rise. It is the water that makes it seem to do so. This is because, when you look through air, you see in a straight line, but when you look through air and water, you see along two lines. This curious property of water is called refraction.

Let us do another trick—make a penny rise up in water.

Put a saucer on a table and put a penny in the middle of it, as shown in the second picture. Now get someone to look at it. Ask him to sit a little lower until the penny is just hidden by the rim of the saucer. He will then see the saucer but not the penny.

Now, while your friend sits still, pour water into the saucer. Do it very steadily so as not to spill the water. The penny will some into sight. It does not really rise. It is the water that makes it seem to do so, as explained in the cpation under the picture.

Barbara Ann Scott Now 19 Years Old

TORONTO, May 10.—(CP)—Barbara Ann Scott, the winsome Ottawa miss who won the world figure skating championship last winter, celebrated her 19th birthday in Toronto yesterday. Among other things she attended a radio program and was guest at a house party.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

We are beginning to have such a sensible approach to many of the problems over which parents of a generation or so fought bitter battles. For many, many long years we thought only of the parent, her rights and privileges. The child was of secondary consideration. "Children should be seen and not heard," and "Let him cry it out so he'll know who is boss," being descriptive of typical old-time attitudes.

Beginning in 1918 when President Wilson proclaimed Children's Year, the emphasis was strongly on the rights and privileges of the child. Because of the direction of our thinking there were times when the distraught parent was sure that she was entirely forgotten; so self-conscious was she compelled to be about her child and what she owed him as a person.

The emphasis has shifted again and is now on neither the parent or the child, but on the relationships of the child to his parents, brothers, sisters and care-takers. The focus of interest is on the acts of the parent which build up wholesome, happy relationships and which in turn develop the child into an integrated and secure personality.

That is why there is so much "new" interest in cuddling the baby, rocking him if necessary and attending to him when he cries. The babys' first relationships should be loving, protective ones so that he feels himself secure. It is time enough to develop independence when he has made this first, important adjustment to the persons around him.

The new thinking is all along the lines of allowing the baby to be in the parent's room from birth and thus give him the feeding, the soothing attentions he needs instead of allowing him to cry himself to exhaustion in the nursery.

Those of us who have been concerned with childcare over a long period are impressed with these changes, and with the new emphasis, though to the young parent these may seem neither new nor important. But, viewed over the years, the way in which the objectives of happy children and wholesome personalities are attained is obviously different. With new hope we watch this different approach.

Our leaflet No 3, "List of Names," will suggest boy's and girl's names to the new mother. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

"Tell me, doctor...

A friend of mine just back from the old country tells me they've got a great new antiseptic there.

He reckons it saved his life..."

"new" is a relative term. 'Dettol' has been known for a number of years, and during that time it has been tested and proved in literally millions of cases. There is scarcely a hospital in the old country where 'Dettol' is not regularly on guard against the dangers of septic infection.

The properties of this modern antiseptic are truly remarkable. Unlike the old-fashioned germicides, 'Dettol' is non-poisonous. It is deadly to germs but gentle on human tissues, safe in the hands of a child. Yet this clean, pleasant-smelling fluid, so agreeable that men and women use it regularly in their baths, is so efficient germicidally that it is relied upon in the gravest surgical operations, and preferred by doctors in the leading maternity hospitals in Canada.

THE REASONS why 'Dettol' is now being used in more and more of the leading hospitals in Canada.

1 'Dettol' antiseptic is a ruthless killer of the germs that cause so many septic infections.

2 'Dettol' is non-toxic — non-poisonous. (Important in homes where there are young children).

3 'Dettol' is effective in the presence of blood and pus.

4 'Dettol' is gentle and kind to human tissues.

5 'Dettol' is safe, so safe that it could, in emergency, be used even in the dark.

6 'Dettol' does not stain either linen or the skin.

7 'Dettol' is deodorant, pleasant, and agreeable and eminently suited for use in feminine hygiene.

Do as the hospitals do: keep 'Dettol' handy and use it promptly whenever infection threatens.

Kinnettes Send Parcels

The May general meeting of the Edmonton Kinnette Club was held Thursday evening in the Windsor tea room.

One year ago the Kinnettes were keenly inspired by a talk by Lady Reading as to the post-war food problem in Britain. Since that time, over 200 food parcels have been wrapped at monthly meetings. Mrs. E. T. Morrison, who is in charge of overseas parcels made this report Thursday night.

The Kinnette club has recently undertaken a new project, in addition to the overseas parcels. This project is with the Dr. Charles Camsell Hospital, for Tubercular Indians. The club activities at present, are confined to the maternity and children's wards. Mrs. P. I. Cameron is chairman of the committee for this work.

The Kinnette Club is handling the sale of programs at the Edmonton spring horse show. Mrs. V. B. Hayward is in charge.

The June meeting of the club will be held in the form of a dinner at the Highlands golf club June 12.

Those present at the meeting were: Mrs. A. G. Campbell, president; Mrs. P. I. Cameron, Mrs. R. E. Claxton, Mrs. H. S. Douglas, Mrs. J. N. Forman, Mrs. M. Graham, Mrs. W. M. B. Grant, Mrs. V. B. Hayward, Mrs. F. M. Heath, Mrs. A. R. Ingham, Mrs. D. W. Iverach, Mrs. E. B. Johnston, Mrs. A. Johannesson, Mrs. C. R. Kiefer, Mrs. W. G. Montgomery, Mrs. E. C. Morel, Mrs. E. T. Morrison, Mrs. R. B. Morrison, Mrs. G. McArthur, Mrs. J. A. Shandro and Miss Ethel Savage.

Auxiliary Planning Present Resolutions

At a recent meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, BESL, Strathcona branch No. 150, Mrs. W. S. Rose and Mrs. P. Maines were appointed as delegates to the provincial convention to be held in Edmonton, June 8 to 11.

Resolutions to be presented to the convention include: That any Imperial veteran, who was in receipt of a pension for a war disability and whose pension has been stopped for reason of residence in Canada, be made eligible for benefits under the War Veterans Allowance Act.

That war widows and orphans have increased pensions to cover the high cost of present day living, no increase having been received since World War I.

Past president's badge was presented to Mrs. Maines by Mrs. Rose.

Among future activities will be a bridge and whist party to be held in the Legion hall, 104 street and 81 avenue, May 14. Mrs. H. Joslin will be in charge with Mrs. A. Hamilton assisting.

Nursing Graduate Feted at Reception

Following the graduation exercises of the 1947 class of the Misericordia hospital school of nursing in Convocation hall Thursday evening, Mrs. D. H. Harper entertained at a reception at her home at 11110 127 street in honor of her daughter, Margaret, who was one of the graduates. Thirty-seven friends attended.

Effectively decorating the rooms and the tea table were pink and yellow roses sent to Miss Harper by her uncle, S. Dick of Seattle.

Presiding at the coffee urns were Mrs. W. H. Harper and Mrs. A. M. Harper of Calgary, aunts of the guest of honor, and Mrs. A. Wotherspoon. Assistants were Mrs. Bob Eldridge, Miss Viola Martins, Miss Bertha Elgert, Miss Gladys Bean and Mrs. Meta Yanke.

Monday evening, Mrs. Harper entertained the graduating class. Pouring tea were Miss Bertha Elgert and Miss Viola Martins.

Miss Harper won the gold medal award for obstetrical nursing, presented by the obstetrical staff of the hospital.

Monty Pays Visit To His Soldier Son

Field Marshall Viscount Bernard L. Montgomery, chief of the British Imperial general staff, visits his son, Tpr. David Montgomery, at Chatterick camp, where David is taking training.

Famed Chinese War Pilot Organizes own Orient Line

SHANGHAI, China, (NANA)—A bumptious young China-owned airline today is rapidly overtaking the veteran China National Aviation Corp., which for 16 years has clutched near-monopoly of China's commercial aviation.

This tenderfoot line, the Central Transport Corp., grew from the wartime dreams of vigorous, American-trained Moon F. Chin, 34, a pioneer of the Himalayan "hump" flights.

When the war ended, Chin obtained financial support and a go-ahead from the Chinese ministry of communications. He gathered together a prize lot of his American, Sino-American, and Chinese flying buddies.

Buy Used Transports

In India, they picked up a handful of surplus U.S. army transports. In China they absorbed some ground equipment and a decrepit Shanghai hangar from the defunct (Sino-German) Eurasia Aviation Corp.

On Dec. 23, 1945, the new line ran its first flight—the 690-mile hop from Kunming to Canton. By March, 1947, this international band of pilots, now including veterans of the Royal and Royal Canadian Air Fores, was flying 30 planes 265,000 miles monthly to such widely scattered points as Chengtu, Lanchow, Peiping, and Hong Kong.

In March the new line achieved a gross revenue of $460,000. This was better than the business done by C.N.A.C., although the latter, owned 80 percent by the Chinese government and 20 percent by Pan American Airways, flies several more planes.

Wins Great Respect

Chin, who became operations manager, has won great respect among his pilots. They know him as a flier, with 2,000 hours in the air. Early in the war, when the Allies hectically sought alternate air routes to Asia, Chin made a historic test flight from Sinkiang (Chinese Turkestan) across the "top of the world" to India. He helped train Chinese pilots, flew bigwigs, and occasionally was at the controls for Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

It was Chin who safely piloted Wendell Wilkie into Chungking after a 4,000-mile flight across Asia from Russia in October, 1942, over a route that had rarely been traveled by an Occidental. And Chin was at the controls when Jimmy Doolittle, after the bombing of Tokyo and his landing in the Chinese hills, was flown to safety with so many refugees aboard the plane that Jimmy feared overloading. When, on their safe arrival, eight more refugees crawled out of the wings, Chin only smiled.

Chin has forged a team that pulls together—quite a job in a country where foreign and local temperaments are so divergent. His foreign crewmen he tries to make as comfortable as possible, especially in the more primitive outlying bases. His Chinese crewmen he pays (uniquely in China) at the same scale as the foreigners.

Pay Is Good

Starting pilots' pay, for instance, is U.S. $700 monthly, with a U.S. $50 increase every six months and U.S. $10 hourly rate extra for more than 60 hours' flying a month.

Central is constantly broadening its operations. In April it inaugurated a twice-monthly 2,000-mile trip across the Nan Shan mountains and Gobi desert to remote Tihwa (Urumchi) in Sinkiang. At the same time the line ran to survey flights to Bangkok, Siam, via Saigon, French Indo-China, preparing to open its first international route.

The line has ordered two Constellations in anticipation of opening service in August to San Francisco via Wake, Guam, and Honolulu. Pretty, uniformed Chinese hostesses, now being trained, soon will be in service.

Every cent Central nets is poured into improvements. The line purchased 150 surplus American transports, but "cannibalized" most for motors and spare parts. New parts and other equipment, such as radios and repair materials, are exceedingly difficult to obtain because of stringent Chinese government import restrictions and "red tape."

These handicaps are such that definitive long-range planning is impossible. But Chin and his colleagues are determined to expand until the line can accommodate all the passengers who crowd Central's ticket offices seeking passage to points over Asia.

Ireland has become a profiteer's paradise and a poor man's hell, said Dr. T. F. O'Higgins, leader of Fine Gael, chief opposition party, in Dublin, urging that wages go up or cost of living be brought down.

Last of Dinosaurs Found On Rocky New Zealand Isle

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, (NANA) — On rocky islands off the New Zealand coast lingers "The last of the dinosaurs," oldest of backboned creatures on earth, the three-eyed lizard.

Fossil bones of its closest relative have been found only in Wyoming rocks where they were deposited about 150,000,000 years ago. The creature, seldom seen because of its secretive habits belongs to an order of reptiles closely allied to the dinosaurs whose heyday on earth was the permian geological period, about 250,000,000 years ago.

All other backboned permian creatures have been extinct for millions of years. The Tuatara, as the New Zealand animal is called, lingers on and has changed but little, relatively. While ordinarily called a "lizard," it actually is somewhat closer to the turtles, geologists say. Its nearest parallel among other living animals would be shell less tortoise.

Seldom Seen

The Tuatara never is seen outside New Zealand—and very seldom here. Negotiations to obtain a specimen for the national zoological park in Washington got nowhere. The Wellington zoo has only one, and none of the attendants has seen it for several months. It is hidden away under a rock somewhere.

Even on the islands where the lizards still are most abundant it probably would require several weeks to find one. Besides, this is probably the most rigidly protected creature on earth.

Has Third Eye

Its most curious feature is the third eye on top of its head. Although long in disuse and covered with a thin membrane, this anatomically is an actual eye with optic nerve connections. It is an extension of the pineal gland which is found in the brains of all vertebrates and the function of which never has been determined.

Once it was regarded as the seat of the "soul", since physiologists could not conceive of something in the brain with no use whatsoever, and seemingly the soul was the only thing left over for which no place in the body had been found. Apparently, however, this gland has passed into complete disuse in man and all other animals except the Tuatara. There is some anatomical evidence that the third eye once was a pair of eyes and that this lizard—possibly all vertebrates of the Permian period—once had four eyes.

The creature presumably owes its survival through almost a quarter of a billion years which have seen the disappearance of all its contemporaries to its seclusiveness and conservation of energy. It simply has hidden under a rock while the parade of evolution passed it by through the ages.

FIRE PREVENTION CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN
MAY 12th TO MAY 17th, 1947

Five Good Reasons Why In this Campaign Everyone Should Join

1. Safeguards Health.
2. Stimulates Civic Pride
3. Promotes Thrift
4. Intensifies Fire Prevention
5. Makes Home and City Beautiful

To make the Clean-up Campaign A Success.—Everyone Must HELP

Safety From Fire and Disease

When all Rubbish is removed from Basement, Garage and Yard.

START TO-DAY
and find greater pride in your own possessions.

CITY COMMISSIONERS — JAS. MacGREGOR, FIRE CHIEF

AND IT'S UP TO EVERYONE TO HELP!

You, You, You, You, You and especially YOU! Yes, it is up to YOU to pitch in and help make Edmonton beautiful. Only by beautifying your OWN home can the entire city become a beauty spot. This year thousands of tourists will be visiting our city. Let's make sure that they take away a favorable impression. They will remember beauty! They will also remember ugliness! It's up to YOU which one they'll see.

MONDAY—FIRE PREVENTION DAY! Eliminate the fire hazards around your home and yard.
TUESDAY — VACANT LOT DAY! School children throughout the city will be cleaning up vacant lots.
WEDNESDAY — FIRST CLEAN UP PROPERTY DAY! Rake, mow, prune and trim! It's really fun!
THURSDAY — SECOND CLEAN UP PROPERTY DAY! Paint, wash, build and brighten. Finish the job!
FRIDAY — SAFETY DAY! Now make another home tour for removing safety hazards. Make it safe.
SATURDAY — LAWN AND GARDEN DAY! A chance to put the finishing touches on your property.

Livestock

EDMONTON LIVESTOCK

Week's receipts: cattle 1331, calves 272, hogs 2189, sheep 182.

There was good action on the cattle market throughout the past week, with prices fully steady to strong. Receipts were light being insufficient to meet requirements. One small lot of strictly choice weighty steers realized 15.50 per cwt., the bulk of the choice steers trading from 14.50 to 15. Good to choice butcher heifers sold from 12.50 to 13.75 with a few choice lights from 14 to 14.25. The cow market held steady throughout, good lights 10.50 to 11 and light heifery kinds from 11.25 to 11.50. Good heavy cows sold from 10 to 10.75. Bulls were from 9.50 to 11.25 per cwt.

Stockers and feeders of suitable quality in demand. Choice steers 10.00 to 11.00 per cwt., with short keeps of good breeding 11.50 to 12.00. Plain steers 8.50 to 9.50. Stock heifers 8.00 to 9.50 per cwt. and stock cows 7.00 to 8.00 per cwt.

Veal calves: good to choice handyweights 13 to 13.75 per cwt., choice lights up to 14, heavy range calves 9.50 to 12.00, plain and common kinds 8 to 9.

Hogs: grade A on stockyards for shipment 20.75 per cwt., dressed, direct local plant 19.90. Sows liveweight on stockyards lower 13.25 per cwt. Feeders 16 to 18 according to weight and quality.

Lambs steady: choice handyweights, locals 13 per cwt., off cars 13.50; good 12 to 12.50, medium 10 to 11, yearlings 6 to 8.50, light ewes 5.50 to 7.50, medium ewes 3.50 to 5.00. Feeders in very limited demand from 6.50 to 9.75 per cwt.

LIVESTOCK REVIEW

OTTAWA, (CP) — Eastern cattle prices lost some ground during the week but western prices held the agriculture department reported in its weekly report.

At Toronto top prices for weighty steers was 15.75, with most sales 15.50 down, and butcher steers 13-15. At Montreal medium to good steers sold between 14 and 15.50, while in the Maritimes, good to choice steers and heifers were quoted at 14.

Choice steers at Winnipeg were 15-15.50, butcher steers and heifers at Calgary sold at 14.50-15.25, Edmonton 14.50, Saskatoon 15 and Vancouver 14.50-15.

Exports of dairy cattle to the United States for the week totalled 1,019 compared with 1,751 the same week last year.

Choice veals closed at Toronto at 15.50-16.50, Montreal 15, Winnipeg 14-14.50, Calgary 13-14, Edmonton 13-14 and Regina 14.

Little change was shown in hog prices although supplies were somewhat more plentiful. Toronto paid 22 for grade A, Montreal 22.25, Winnipeg 20.40, Calgary 20.25, Edmonton 20.75, Prince Albert, Moose Jaw, Saskatoon and Regina 20.15, Vancouver 21.2521.50, Moncton 22.75, and Charlottetown 21.75.

Lambs at Toronto were 14.75-16, Montreal 13-14, Winnipeg 13.50, Calgary 13-13.50, and Edmonton 13.50.

Under a new trade agreement Bulgaria fill get watches, machinery and dyes from Switzerland in exchange for attar of roses, tobacco, tomato mash, wines and spirits, to the value of $2,340,000.

Preparing the world's brightest light for a test at Cleveland municipal airport, W. A. Pennow, aviation lighting engineer, touches a lamp capable of producing, with the aid of a reflector, more than three billion candlepower of light. Dozens of these lamps are expected to provide safe landing visibility for pilots in fog or storm. The light flashes penetrate for 1,000 feet, even under "zero-zero" weather conditions. Colored lights serve as traffic indicators.

BUTTER STOCKS

OTTAWA, (CP) — Canada's butter position is improving steadily, with more stocks on hand and a higher production rate.

Two bureau of statistics reports showed Canada has almost twice as much of this still-rationed item as last year, and that production last month was five percent ahead of the same month last year.

Total stocks at May 1 stood at 11,207,117 pounds compared with 6,790,804 the same date in 1946, while April production advanced to 20,737,000 pounds from 19,705,000 in April last year.

Grain Prices

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG — Rye futures were strong in Saturday's brief session, the advance following early unchanged openings. Both nearby options gained the maximum 10 cents. Cash rye closed at 3.50¼. Futures close: May 3.50, July 3.37, Oct. 2.44½, Dec. 2.28.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO — Grains were weaker Saturday. May wheat closed down one cent at 2.69½; May corn down 3⅛ at 1.67⅛ and May oats 92¼.

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, (AP)—Speculative and investment apathy kept Saturday stock market in a moderately irregular range with dealings among the smallest of the last three years.

The ticker tape frequently was at a standstill after a quiet opening. While fractional advances were fairly well distributed near the close, many losers persisted. Transfers for the two hours ran to around 250,000 shares.

McIntyre, with a gain of ¼, was the exception among otherwise quiet Canadian issues. Canadian Pacific and Distillers Seagram both were unchanged.

CARLOADINGS

OTTAWA, (CP) — Carloadings for the week ended May 3 amounted to 75,165 cars compared with 76,033 cars for the previous week and 66,627 cars for the corresponding week last year.

Grain increased to 8,723 cars from 7,750 for the previous week and 6,237 in 1946. Vegetables increased from 466 cars last year to 1,247 cars and merchandise from 17,879 to 19,340.

Argentine telephone employees will participate in profits through ownership of shares held by an employees mutual fund.

Liquidation Big Jap Firms Is Unique Financial Move

CLEVELAND, (NANA)— The liquidation of the Zaibatsu is one of the most sensational developments in the financial world since the midget sat on J. P. Morgan's lap.

The Zaibatsu are the 10 wealthiest families in Japan, who controlled most of its banking and industry through gigantic holding companies and interlocking directorates and whose activities contributed to the financing of the war and the production of war supplies. These are the Aikawa, Asano, Furukawa, Iwasaki, Mitsui, Makajima, Nomura, Okura, Sumitomo and Yasuda families.

To dispose of their holdings, the occupation authorities have established an anti-trust and cartel section, which operates like the anti-trust division of the department of justice, except that it doesn't have to go through the routine of getting court orders for what it does. This section issues its own orders.

Its purpose is to break up large corporate enterprises and to abolish monopolistic trade practices. It operates through the holding company liquidation commission, an agency of the Japanese government.

Companies Selected

The first official act of the holding company liquidation commission was to designate the Mitsui, Mitsubishi, Sumitomo, Yasuda and Fuji industrial holding companies for dissolution and to take physical possession of securities having a book value of 1,500,000,000 yen.

It since has designated for dissolution 40 additional holding companies and 20 of the larger Zaibatsu subsidiaries which operated in a dual capacity as industrial and trading enterprises and holding companies.

Through these holding companies, the liquidation commission controls 3,500 operating corporations. The securities of about 3,000 of these are scheduled for liquidation under a recently enacted Japanese law prohibiting stock ownership by the restricted companies and their subsidiaries and affiliates.

These securities eventually will be sold to Japanese individuals with employees of the various companies having priority purchase rights. The ultimate aim is to develop an investing public and to establish widespread ownership of securities, as in the United States, rather than having them concentrated in a few hands.

Not Confiscation

Technically this is not confiscation. The original owners of the securities, the Zaibatsu families, will be compensated from the proceeds of the liquidation. They are to be given 10-year non-negotiable bonds. This won't make them wealthy, however. About 85 percent of what they get will go to the government under the capital levy tax.

Actual sales to the public will not begin until the securities have been appraised and fair prices established for them. In many cases this will involve reorganization of the companies involved especially those which have sustained a total loss of their assets in Manchuria, China and other places where Japanese exploitation ceased with end of the war.

Moreover, it appears that currency stabilization—which would establish some kind of value for the yen outside of Japan—would be highly desirable to make the investments attractive.

Meanwhile the income of all the Zaibatsu enterprises has been impounded. The members of these families are dependent for living expenses on allowances from the liquidation holding company. These will be deducted from their eventual compensation.

AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE
Because of the Automobile Indemnity Act passed at the last session of the legislature few if any automobile owners will take the risk of driving without adequate insurance. To those and all other motor car owners we wish to announce that WE ARE DIRECT REPRESENTATIVES FOR LLOYD'S OF LONDON, ENGLAND. That means you get immediate service from our Edmonton office for this strongest, most widely and favourably known of all insuring institutions. We have direct authority and write insurance coverages and pay loss claims from our office. No delays! Claims paid the same day that Proof of Loss is established. Furthermore, our rates are lower. Our motor vehicle rates, including endorsement giving complete protection while driving all other vehicles as well as your own; also Customs Duty Endorsement providing extra protection for motorists travelling in the U.S.A.; also personal accident insurance with indemnity up to $3,000.00; (special feature of Lloyd's policies), is less than the rates for standard coverages only, with most other insurers. Multiple unit or fleet line owners get our special rates.

swing selection, were the two featured numbers.

Other selections were: My Hero; Poet and Peasant, overture; selections from Oklahoma; double baton whirling by five majorettes, Smoke Gets in Your Eyes, and March of the Toys, a descriptive march.

THE THIRD AND concluding portion of the program was the massed band.

The selections included Sempre Fidelis, march; In a Persian Market, Mosquitos Parade, and Colonel Bogey on Parade.

Five majorettes performed in a blackout twirling routine, holding illuminated batons in a darkened auditorium.

Woman Arrested On Theft Charge

A party Thursday night at the home of John Sarafenchan, 11932 77 street, wound up with two men losing $60 and one woman, Bella Staton, no fixed abode, was arrested by city police and charged with theft.

Sarafenchan alleged that $50 was stolen from him while Albert Gagnon, 11942 79 street, said he lost $10. When searched at police headquarters Bella Staton was found to be concealing a $10 bill in her mouth. So far no trace of the $50 has been found.

BOYS, THE PICTURES ALL CAME OUT FINE.
YES, JUNIOR, YOU "CRIME STOPPERS" ARE GOING TO HAVE A TWO-PAGE SPREAD IN THE FIRST ISSUE OF GLANCE.
Glance
OUT JUNE 6
THAT'S FINE, MR. CLARK, AND BE SURE TO SAY THAT ANY KIDS CAN JOIN OUR CLUB WHO WANT TO BE LAW-ABIDING, UPSTANDING CITIZENS.
DOES YOUR CLUB HAVE A MOTTO, JUNIOR?
YES, WE FEEL THAT TOO MUCH IDLENESS IS NOT GOOD. WE BELIEVE IN HAVING ODD JOBS AFTER SCHOOL. OUR MOTTO IS "WORK AND WIN."
VERY GOOD!
"WORK AND WIN"! GREAT! IT COULD VERY WELL BECOME A NATIONAL SLOGAN.
GEE! DO YOU THINK SO, MR. CLARK?
GOSH! GLANCE COMES OUT JUNE 6TH! AFTER THAT OUR "CRIME STOPPERS" CLUB WILL BE KNOWN FROM COAST TO COAST.
LATER
WE MAY EVEN HAVE CLUB MEMBERS IN OTHER CITIES.
HEY, JUNIOR, ISN'T THAT BRONKO?
HELLO, YOU SISSIES! ESPECIALLY ZIP SMITH. HE USED TO PAL WITH ME!
YEAH? WELL, NOT ANY MORE, BRONKO.
WHY, YOU'RE NOTHING BUT A BUNCH OF STOOL PIGEONS. ALL OF YOU.
STOOL PIGEONS, YOUR EYE! WE DON'T SQUEAL ON ANYBODY. WE TRY TO HELP 'EM—BUT—
BRONKO, WE KNOW THAT IT WAS YOU WHO TOOK THE TELEPHONE COIN BOX FROM THAT EMPTY STORE, BUT WE DIDN'T SQUEAL—
WH—HOW DID YOU KNOW THAT?—I MEAN—UH—WHO—YOU—
WE FIND OUT, BRONKO. WE FIND OUT.

A POINT OF VIEW

THE Teenie Weenies hadn't seen Ginky since the Doctor had set the broken bones in his tail. He had received the injury during his capture after trying to steal a frog ham from the little folks. He was locked up in the fruit jar which the Teenie Weenies use for a jail and when he had served his sentence the little people had their usual battle to get the mouse out.

It always takes a terrible struggle to get Ginky out of jail, for he says it is so homelike and he's quite sentimental about it. The Teenie Weenies were mighty glad he had kept away from the village, for it gave them a little peace. But one day he showed up with a determination to get back in jail.

Several of the Teenie Weenie men were watching the Old Soldier, who was making a water container for the Chinaman out of a pecan shell. They were gathered outside the coffee can which the Teenie Weenies use for a workshop when Ginky arrived and began trying to argue himself back into jail.

"I'm entitled to damages," Ginky said as he pointed to his injured tail. "You folks broke this tail and it has given me a lot of trouble. I claim damages."

"It was your own fault," said the General. "If you hadn't been trying to steal a ham you wouldn't have had a broken tail."

"I wasn't stealin' your ham!" shouted Ginky. "I was just going to take one."

"What's the difference between stealing and taking?" asked the General.

"Taking means that you only take what you need," answered Ginky, "but stealing—that means that you take more than you need."

"Suppose you happen to need more than the other chap has?" argued the General.

"You take it," answered Ginky. "That's his fault for not having more than he needs."

"What," asked the General, "do you consider proper damages for the injury to your tail?"

"One year in jail, three meals a day and doughnuts and clover seed on Sunday," announced Ginky.

When the General refused Ginky's demands the mouse flew into a rage and he said a lot of nasty things.

"Get out of here," yelled the Dunce from the workshop window, "or I'll tell everyone in the neighborhood what a stinker you are!"

"That won't do you any good; everybody already knows it," said Ginky, and he went off muttering threats over his shoulder.
